Company Is Planning Expansion

Busy Session Is Held by Aldermen

A zoning change to provide additional land for development of the proposed cement plant in the Steep Rocks area, was among several requested at last night's Common Council hearing.

THE ALDERMEN also considered legislation that would provide for permanent closing of city offices on Saturdays, and a suggestion by the city planning board that trained, professional planners be considered to develope and co-ordinate various phases of city planning.

Another auction of city property, including the Orpheum Theatre, was requested by Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy and July 3 was fixed as the date.

A BID BY the Board of Water Commissioners for a higher mileage rate for its employes was referred to the finance committee, and on request of the housing authority, a deed was accepted for downtown property, used as a clearance area in conjunction with the Colonial Gardens development.

Attorney Abraham Streifer, representing the Sterlene Realty Corp., which seeks the Steep Rocks area cement development, noted that engineers have found it necessary to acquire additional property, from the Terry Brick Corp.

THIS ADJOINING land is needed in order to complete the company's holdings, he said, and it is necessary to make application to include such lands "within the industrial area." The request was referred to the laws and rules committee.

Another zoning change was sought by Charles Hoppe, of 125 Green street, for a property off Lucas avenue, near Green street, which, it is planned will be developed as a parking area.

Alderman Richard V. Roth, (R) 12th ward ,who said he was concerned with the flooding of a brook in the area, asked to be notified of the date of the hearing.

Minnie B. Post, of 202 Fair street, asked a zoning change for that property because of an opportunity to sell for development as professional offices, and Lawrence A. Quilty asked for a change at 58 Pearl street from residential to business.

Michael Appa, of 112 First avenue, asked a similar change for that address so that he could build an automobile repair shop.

A PETITION with signatures, filed by Cook & Cook for Harry Teetsel asked for a full business zone designation for the Teetsel property 337 and 343 Washington avenue, which at present is classified as non-conforming. The move is aimed to provide for future alterations.

Alderman William S. Keyser (R) second ward, in conjunction with the Saturday closing proposal requested by the Civil Service Employes Association Inc., proposed in a resolution that the corporation counsel be requested to prepare legislation for the next council meeting providing for the Saturday closing, but requiring that the offices remain open until 6 p. m., Fridays. Alderman James K. Ryan (D) 10th ward asked that the Friday closing time be made 7 p. m.

The planning commission submitted a "Brief Interim Report," of its various phases of planning work, and suggested that the point has been reached where trained, professional planners should be considered for eval-

Wicks Reservations Available at Door

Friends of Senator Arthur H. Wicks unable to make reservations will be welcome at his testimonial dinner Thursday in the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, it was announced today by former Mayor C. J. Heiselman, who is handling local arrangements for the event.

The dinner in observance of his 30th year in the New York State Legislature is scheduled for 7 p. m. More than 1,000 friends from all sectors of the state have arranged to attend.

Mr. Heiselman said local friends may make reservations at the door tomorrow night, and he stressed that ladies are welcome. Dress is optional.

5 Scientists Due to Talk At New Paltz

Five outstanding men in the field of science will be among the guest speakers at the annual summer conference of the Association of New York State Science Teachers to be held at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, June 27-29.

Dr. Winslow Hatch, dean of the School of General Education, Boston University, will be the discussion leader on the topic, "Needed, More and Better Scientists." Panelists scheduled to speak at the conference are Dr. B. R. Stanerson, assistant secretary of the American Chemical Society; Dr. J. H. Woodburn, assistant executive secretary of the National Science Teachers Association, Earl Ubell, science editor of the New York Herald Tribune; and Dr. George A. Rietz, manager of the

1-Way Plan Opposedby Big Group

Proposal Is Made To Meet Expert

A 12-1 Common Council vote last night opened the way for public hearing on the uptown one-way traffic system now on trial.

Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk announced the session recessed, subject to call, after long and spirited debate on the merits of the system before an attendance of at least 100, composed largely of uptown merchants and 12th ward residents.

A COUNT of hands requested by Bernie Singer, tire and accessory dealer of 71-73 North Front street showed no more than 12 in the group in favor of adoption of the one-way plan, which could have come to a decisive vote had the council's traffic committee not won top support in its bid for further study and a hearing.

Second Ward Alderman William S. Keyser (R.) after committee recess on the proposal said he felt everyone had three months in which to decide whether he wanted the one-way system, and that the aldermen should now be in a position to vote on the proposal.

James K. Ryran, (D.) 10th ward, and Edwin Radel, (D.) third ward, held that the mayor had not been in close touch with the council during development and trial of the system, and it was proposed that the traffic committee meet with Charles Murphy, traffic director of the Automobile Club of New York, in further discussion of the plan.

A MOTION asking for the vote and discharge of the Council's traffic committee from further consideration of it, offered by Keyser, was seconded by First Ward Alderman Hirschell Mayes, (R), but Mayes, who first voted for the resolution, said he misunderstood its purpose, and later joined the other 11 aldermen in opposing it.

Stanley London, manager of London's Youth Center, 33 North Front street, main spokesman for the merchants, held that the system, as now operating, virtually isolated a business area, and he argued that few, if any changes had been tried in the trial period.

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary, of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, held that the city's traffic problem must be solved if the merchants were to profit, and he didn't think "it reasonable to expect that streets laid out two or three centuries ago," could handle today's traffic. He predicted 100 per cent more traffic by 1960 than was here in 1950.

Complete Support for Ave Is Out

4 Stevenson Backers Force Way Into N. Y. Delegation

Albany, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—New York Democratic leaders' hopes of presenting complete support for Gov. Averell Harriman at the party's presidential convention sailed out the window today as at least four Adlai Stevenson supporters forced their way into the state's delegation.

While Harriman will have the overwhelming majority of New York's 98 convention votes in his pocket, four pro-Stevenson men yesterday won convention delegate seats in the New York primary. Two others claimed victory over Harriman backers as vote counting continued.

Two of the upset victors rubbed salt in Harriman's political wounds by wiring Stevenson that they would be with him "on the first ballot and until you are nominated."

Elsewhere on the primary election front, virtually all incumbent candidates for renomination to seats in Congress and the state Legislature won their primary contests.

Democratic organization forces put down party rebellions in Syracuse and Rochester. And Tammany Hall—the Manhattan Democratic organization—scored a major victory in a three-way battle for a House seat.

Also in New York city, Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits ordered all ballot boxes impounded in Manhattan after receiving fraud complaints in the Liberal party primary election for New York county surrogate.

The Republican slate of presidential convention delegates ran without opposition. The GOP is prepared to throw its 96 votes behind President Eisenhower's bid for renomination.

Harriman's presidential tub thumpers were prepared to surrender at least two delegate votes to the Stevenson camp. These were two delegate candidates, in Manhattan and nearby Westchester county, respectively who were unopposed in the primary.

But pro-Stevenson men popped up to challenge Harriman candidates for eight other seats, four on Long Island, one in Brooklyn and three in Rochester.

The Brooklyn hopeful was defeated. And the Rochester candidates lost in an unsuccessful rebellion against the Monroe county Democratic organization.

Among prominent incumbent lawmakers to win renomination in primary fights were veteran Republican Representatives John Taber, of Auburn, and W. Sterling Cole, of Bath. Nomination in those heavily Republican districts is tantamount to election.

Harriman Approves More For Waterfront Cleanup

Albany, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has approved a higher budget for the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission and said the extra money would be "well spent" if it helped eliminate "unlawful and unwholesome conditions" on the docks.

He signed the $2,182,093 budget yesterday. It is for the fiscal year starting July 1 and is $143,759 higher than the current allocation.

Gov. Meyner of New Jersey also must sign the new budget before it can become effective. He was reported ready to do so.

Harriman said that he understood the higher budget would allow the commission to expand its investigative and legal staff and thereby:

1. Patrol the waterfront more effectively.
2. Reduce pilferage.
3. Curb abuses in baggage handling.
4. Follow up "numerous, hitherto untouched investigation leads."

The governor's office released —simultaneously with the announcement of Harriman's approval—a letter in which his chief counsel, Daniel Gutman, rejected further conferences or hearings on the budget with the New York Shipping Assn. The association had asked that the budget be cut.

The waterfront commission is financed by an assessment against the shipping industry's payroll.

Harriman and Gutman both

David Terry, 86, Retired Brick Firm Head Dies

David Terry, 86, of 182 North Manor avenue, a lifelong resident of Kingston and former president of Terry Brothers Brick Co., died in this city this morning.

Funeral services will be held at the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Friday at 2:30 p. m. Cremation will take place at Gardner Earl Crematory, Troy, on Saturday. Friends may call at the funeral parlors Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Mr. Terry is survived by his wife, the former Marie Louise Ellison and a sister, Mrs. Alva S. Staples of this city.

He had been associated with the brick business all his life and retired as president of the Terry Brothers Brick Co. in 1945 when the business was sold to the Star Brick Co.

A lieutenant in the Spanish-American War, Mr. Terry was a member of Rondout Lodge 343, F & AM, who will hold services at the parlors Thursday at 7 p. m., Mt. Horeb Chapter No. 75, Rondout Commandery No. 52, and Cypress Temple of Albany.

Shandaken Pushes for Early Contract on Route 28 Work

A speedy letting of a contract for the reconstruction of Route 28, the Onteora Trail, from Boiceville to the Delaware county line, is being sought by the town board of the Town of Shandaken.

This section of the route is presently a narrow, tortuous macadam road in extremely poor condition. Over an 18 mile section of the road Onteora school children are conveyed to school at Boiceville where the present concrete extending from Kingston to Boiceville ends.

A movement has been under way for several years to have the route placed under contract. Surveys have been made and presently sections of the route are being surveyed.

At a meeting of the town board of Shandaken held on June 2, the board adopted a resolution requesting the State Highway Department to "proceed at once, with the letting of contract" to include the portion of Route 28 from Boiceville, west to the Delaware county line.

The board also requested that the engineering of Route 28 "be such that the new construction adhere to the present alignment as nearly as possible."

No definite alignment has as yet been selected by the state and apparently several routes have been surveyed and studied.

Surveys have been made from Boiceville west with the alignment close to the present roadway, except near Mt. Tremper where a line has been surveyed over higher ground away from the Esopus creek.

Beyond Mt. Tremper three possible routes have been surveyed. One route calls for crossing the Esopus creek on two bridges, one near the Rustic Tavern and traversing the area west of the creek, and passing back of the business section of Phoenicia recrossing the Esopus creek to emerge again on the present route near Woodland Valley road. A second survey has been made over the existing route and a third possible route would leave the present alignment below the village of Phoenicia near the diner and by-

Legion Auxiliary Fetes Girls Going to Skidmore

Eight Ulster county girls who will attend Empire Girls State at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, June 22 to 30 were guests of the Ulster County American Legion Auxiliary at a dinner held last night at the Old Fort, New Paltz.

Guest speakers included Mrs. Fredericka Haley, of West Stephentown, state chairman of Empire Girls State and Attorney S. James Matthews of Kingston who will serve as political instructor at the citizenship convention for the first time. He succeeds Mayor Frederick H. Stang as political instructor at the convention.

Mayor Stang, who has served Empire Girls State as political instructor for 14 years of its 15-year existence, said he was relinquishing the instructorship to Mr. Matthews because of the press of other duties.

He lauded the sessions as "a comprehensive course in social studies."

The state is composed of girl high school juniors representing the 62 counties in New York state who are selected on a basis of scholarship, citizenship,

Saugerties Gets Tax Picture in School Bond Plan

A study just completed by the State Education Department shows that if the bond issue is approved on June 29 the highest basic tax rate in the Saugerties Central School system during the next six years will be reached in 1958-59 and 1959-60 when it will be $65.79, Superintendent of Schools Grant D. Morse told The Freeman today.

He said that added to this for the taxpayers of former district No. 10 (the village) is a tax of $3.21 for previous bonded indebtedness, "making the district's highest tax rate $69 for

No Advice, Says Judge

Van Steenbergh Jury Told to Resume

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., (AP)—A Dutchess county jury of 10 men and 2 women, after a few hours of rest, resumed deliberations at 9 a. m. today in the murder trial of young Wells Van Steenbergh.

The jury came in at 11:30 a. m., and told the judge that they felt they couldn't come to an agreement, and asked his advice. He told them he couldn't offer them any, and ordered them to resume deliberations.

The jury was locked up for the night at 2 a. m. after deliberating six hours.

Van Steenbergh, a 21-year-old freshman at the University of Bridgeport, Conn., is accused of arson murder in the death last Oct. 28 of Mrs. Lloyd Beresford, 38, in her home in nearby Staatsburg.

A guilty verdict could send Van Steenburgh to the electric chair.

The state contended the student poured gasoline on the woman and set her afire after she surprised him and fainted while he was taking $3,000 from her husband's bedroom. Beresford, a well-known dog show judge, was away from home at the time.

Van Steenbergh denied the charge on the stand and said he was 60 miles away at the time of Mrs. Beresford's death.

There was evidence at the trial to the effect that Van Steenbergh and Mrs. Beresford had been friendly and that she had given him money.

In summing up yesterday Dist. Atty. Raymond C. Barratta asked the death penalty.

The prosecutor added:

"He took a human life with the worst type of crime—theft with arson to cover it up. He went to the Beresford residence looking for a pot of gold and with firm intention of burning down the house."

Bridge Traffic Decreases in May

Traffic on the three Hudson River bridges operated under administration of the New York State Bridge Authority showed a 13 per cent decline in May, an Authority release showed today.

A total of 95,248 less vehicles used the three bridges in May this year than used the bridges last May. Total usage this May was 614,217 as compared to 709,465 for May a year ago.

The largest amount of decline was noted on the Bear Mountain Bridge with a 32.42 per cent drop, or 61,123 less cars for May this year. Total usage for the month this year was 127,410 whereas a year ago in May it was 188,533.

Decision Reserved At Water Hearing

At a hearing Tuesday afternoon before the Water Power and Control Commission of the State of New York on the application of Kingsvale Water Company, Inc., for permission to develop a water supply for the Whittier Development at Flatbush, testimony was taken before Henry Schiller and decision was reserved on the application at the close of the hearing. There was no opposition filed to the proposal. Abraham Streifer appeared for the petitioner.

The proposed plan is to develop the water system in two steps, the first to acquire 200,000 gallons of water a day from ground sources. Evidence was submitted to indicate test drillings had indicated this supply was available from wells. Immediate approval of this plan was sought and the supply is considered sufficient to provide water for 350 houses, the first step in the development.

A second phase of the plan is to take water from the Hudson river and treat it. The report of the engineers states that the river supply is to be developed in two stages, the first to provide water for a population of 2,500 and the second stage for a population of 16,000. In the second state of this project a minimum of 1.37 million gallons per day and a maximum of 12.8 million gallons of water daily would be sought.

Historical Society Will Meet Saturday

The Ulster County Historical Society will meet Saturday, June 9, at 3 p. m. at the First Dutch Church, Main street.

Old silver will be exhibited as well as other items of historic interest, including among original documents a letter from General George Washington.

Mrs. Willard A. Burke, director of music, has arranged a short program consisting of hymns which were sung at the period in which the church was founded. Mrs. Clarence Beehler will be at the organ.

Harry Rigby will speak on "The History of the Old Dutch Church." The public is invited to attend.

Hasbrouck Co. Meeting

Since the scheduled fire training class, conducted by Deputy Chief Harold Sanford, falls on the regular meeting date, members of Hasbrouck Engine Company No. 1 will meet at the firehouse Thursday, June 7 at 8 p. m.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Choral Singers Will Offer Program Sunday

Woodstock, June 6 — The Choral Singers, a group of 15 amateur singers from New York who are conducted by a professional, Edward Tatnall Canby, will sing at the Woodstock Art Gallery, June 10, under the sponsorship of the Woodstock Artists Association.

The program will span the 16th century, from the high point of Renaissance style as expressed by the Fleming, Josquin des Prez, to the fervently emotional writing of Carlo Gesualdo, Prince of Venosa.

The Josquin pieces will include both chansons and motets, written to secular as well as religious texts. Among the secular pieces, with French settings, are Mille Regrets and Coeurs Desoles. The religious motets include Germinavit Radix Jesse, an antiphon, and a particularly beautiful and serene setting of Ave Maria.

Composers later than Josquin (d. 1521) who will be represented include Roland de Lassus, another Fleming, the Frenchman Janequin and le Jeune, Palestrina, and Monteverdi. With the exception of one motet by Lassus, Providebam Dominum, these will all be secular works, madrigals, and chansons. The concluding group will be four madrigals by Gesualdo.

Most of the pieces are for four- or five-part chorus, a few for mixed solo voices. The Lassus Providebam is for solo, trio, and four-part chorus.

Since most of this music is rarely heard, and much of it is not available in performing editions, Mr. Canby will provide an informal commentary with the various pieces.

Fire Companies Plan September Parade

Woodstock, June 6—The three Woodstock fire companies will hold a parade on September 8, at 2 p. m., to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 1, it was announced at a meeting of the company Monday night at the fire hall. There will also be a service held following the parade, with all the clergy in Woodstock participating, time and place to be announced. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd is chairman of the committee for the service.

Serving on the parade committee are: George Haythorne, chairman; George Riseley, Merlin Wilber, of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3; and Roger Cashdollar of Woodstock Fire Company No. 2.

On the evening of September 8, there will be a dance. The committee for the dance is as follows: Birge Simmons, chairman; Jack Gibson and Roger Grazier.

A picnic has been planned for Sunday, Sept. 9, at Trnka's picnic grove, Asbury, for members of the fire companies and their families. Serving on the picnic committee are: Arthur DiNapoli, chairman; Eric Wiltz, Bruce Reynolds, Joseph Holdridge, Jr., Bob Hastie and Wayne Underhill.

The entire program is being prepared under the able supervision of the 50th anniversary committee. They are: Chester Wolven, chairman; Henry Eighmey, Mervin Doremus, John Pepper and Robert Smith.

Village Notes

Woodstock, June 6—The sermon topic of the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, on Sunday at the 11 a. m. service, June 10, at the Woodstock Reformed Church, will be "One Thing that Never Fails." Parents may leave their smaller children in the nursery provided for this purpose during the service. Sunday school will be held at the usual time, 9:30 a. m., and parents bringing their children are most cordially invited to attend the adult Bible class held as a part of the Sunday school.

On Wednesday noon, the ladies of the Missionary Society will have a covered dish luncheon in the basement. The Rev. Orville Hine, pastor of the Warwick Reformed Church will tell of his trip to the Far East when he visited the Reformed Church Mission stations and will show pictures which he took relating to this trip. All are cordially invited to attend.

The ladies of the Lydian Society are serving a fish and chip supper Wednesday, June 13, starting at 5:30 p. m., and continuing until all are served. This will be prepared under the direction of Blanche Caterers. Tickets may be purchased at Mower's Food Market.

CONTACT LOCAL FIRMS

Once again the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce issues a warning to area residents to do business only with reputable firms and with known representatives. The new warning is prompted by a recent complaint made by a local resident, after he was defrauded.

There is nothing new or novel in the "salesman's" approach, but it always seems to work and this despite repeated warnings. Manager Albert Kurdt of the Chamber of Commerce relates the familiar story: An unknown salesman or solicitor approached a local resident about needed major home improvements. After some persuasive and hurried salesmanship a contract was signed for well over a thousand dollars and a substantial payment was made. The salesman promised that his firm would start work in two or three days. This was weeks ago and no one has shown up to date. The resident has no satisfactory receipt and does not know the name or address of the firm which the unknown salesman said he represented.

Doing business in Kingston and Ulster County are many reputable firms capable of expert work in all lines of construction. These local business firms are reliable and dependable. They have established businesses, which have been serving the community for years. They will continue to serve tomorrow and the next day.

Why not contact one of these local firms?

Don't fall for the glib tongue and the fancy phrases of the unknown "salesman", who is out to take away your hard earned money.

It is your money and it is up to you to protect it.

TICKER TAPE DROUTH

Indonesian President Sukarno's recent visit to New York was accompanied by a shower of ticker tape from skyscraper windows. Nothing unusual about that. The circumstances were unusual, though. Quite a batch of the Wall Street confetti was tossed out by Department of Sanitation men who later had to clean it up.

The reasons for this foolishness are, believe it or not, matters of high State Department policy. Washington officials have been concerned for some time by the pallid quality of welcomes accorded heads of state visiting New York. Too few huzzahs, they felt—and hardly any ticker tape. They feared that some pooh-bah might be offended. So an appeal was made to the city's Department of Commerce.

It developed that ticker tape is scarce because stock prices are flashed on a board and no longer taped except on reserve tickers. So now tape from those tickers is hoarded to shower dignitaries properly.

When even the reserve tickers stop ticking, the State Department shouldn't have much trouble finding substitutes for ticker tape. Think of all the government white papers issued since World War II, for example. No, they might pick the wrong government. Mr. Dulles' old plane tickets, then? No? Well, what about used-up dollar bills? A bit ostentatious? Still, there's nothing like a shower of money to impress visitors.

Navy Secretary Thomas says the new aircraft carrier Saratoga is so wide that she could carry the liners America and United States side by side. We'll take your word for it, Sir!

TWO-WAY OBLIGATION

The president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States recently said that businessmen have both the obligation and the right to speak on political and other issues of the time. He then mentioned certain things that businessmen should be solidly against — among them, government in business, and high taxes.

This is a logical position. At the same time, businessmen must realize that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. If, as they should, they oppose costly special favors for other groups, they should be as adamant in opposing special favors for themselves. Business groups have often and deservedly lost public regard because they have supported proposals for government spending that would benefit them—while urging strict economy when it came to the other fellow.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LAWLESSNESS TRIUMPHANT

British labor has, in terms of organized union membership and political power, been more successful than American trade unionism. For one thing, it has stuck strictly to its own business. British labor leaders do not own private business ventures; none of them are millionaires unless they inherited the money. None of them have ever been involved in any form of racketeering nor are their personal rewards out of line with their published salaries.

Those who manage the political side of labor, the Labour Party, are all Socialists of various shades, but they are all devoted men. Clement Attlee, Herbert Morrison, Hugh Gaitskell, and even Aneurin Bevan, whatever differences one may have with them, are men who are respected for their integrity even by their opponents. They have all been in government, one has been a prime minister and another is likely to be some day.

On the trade union side of British labor there is no racketeering. It would not be tolerated by the trade union movement or by the Treasury which is very strict on the subject of income tax payments. A private deal, involving money, between an employer and a trade union official, would be bound to end up in a criminal court. The labor movement is public and no labor leader could refuse to show his books on the grounds that it would comfort the enemies of labor.

The British are not angels, but they do have standards which seem not to have been inherited in this Anglo-Saxon country, for since the early days of organized labor, racketeering has always managed to invade certain areas of trade unionism. It may be like during Prohibition or as with the Income Tax—a form of passive resistance. Samuel Gompers told how, in his time, certain labor leaders were actually working in the interest of the street railway companies rather than the workers whom they were reputed to represent. The building trades, as far back as one can go into the record, were given a black eye because business agents of these unions slowed up or speeded up work in accordance with private deals that they made with employers. Comparing this experience with British or German trade unionism of the same period, it may be suggested that the European unions were led by idealists, while the American unions are managed by some idealists like Gompers and some businessmen who worked out gimmicks to make a lucky buck.

One cause for racketeering is the attractiveness of the gains from racketeering. This word needs to be defined because as the small boy says, "What's your racket?" The very question gives an air of usualness and legitimacy to what is, beyond question, wrong. If Soviet Russia is really beating us in the arms race, there may be several explanations which require investigation but one can be the terrific cost of racketeering and the slow-down processes which damage production. While we were slowing down, the Russians employed the Stakhanovist speed-up.

The racket is simply a means for earning money that becomes tax-free by the secrecy of the transaction. As a tax-free dollar is worth many times more than a taxed dollar, it is clearly advantageous to find means to obtain and to own tax-free dollars. This, in substance, is the racket, whether in labor or in any other walk of life.

The device most successfully employed changes from time to time. At one period the most successful and simplest form was the "kick-back," but that is not used at the present time. The more dramatic and dangerous device is "protection." This was employed by Lepke and Gurrah and was part of the operation of what came to be called "Murder, Inc."

It is also a simple device. A combination of union agents and gangsters and often corrupt employers organize to give an employer protection against gangsters or strike organizers for a fee. Sometimes a membership association is organized with a legal state charter. Those who are invited to join and refuse have their premises smashed or their places picketed. Sometimes someone is killed as a lesson to others. Sometimes, acid is thrown into a man's eyes like into Victor Riesel's. Usually such racketeers have connections with politicians, who need not be corrupt but only afraid. Sometimes they are only afraid of being called anti-labor or anti-liberal.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

Physical medicine, or physiotherapy as it is frequently called, is a branch of medicine that is becoming increasingly more important. It is receiving much more attention than formerly because of what it has been able to accomplish in the rehabilitation of war veterans and elderly people. The definition of physical medicine is that it is the treatment of disease by physical (nonmedical means) such as heat, massage, hydrotherapy (use of swimming and wading pools and whirlpool baths, etc.), exercise, rest occupational therapy, radiation and electricity.

Drs. James Rae, Jr. and Leonard F. Bender, University of Michigan, point out that physical treatment remains the most neglected agent of proved value in the management of rheumatoid arthritis. "Over the centuries a multitude of animal, vegetable, and mineral agents have been employed in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. A few of these agents have stood the test of time and have been accepted as measures of proved value. Physical therapy and occupational therapy are high on the list of measures of proved value. At the bottom of the list are gold, X-ray and steroids (such as cortisone). Yet patients are often seen who have extended periods of steroid or gold therapy but little or no physical treatment."

They go on to point out that the most useful single procedure in the management of the patient with rheumatoid arthritis is physical therapy. Even after the spectacular advent of cortisone, it was noted by the Mayo Clinic group that the benefits of physical medicine in conjunction with adequate rest, diet, and simple pain relieving measures (drugs such as Aspirin) were comparable to the benefits obtained by the use of physical medicine and cortisone. Readers may remember a report in the press some time ago from an English research group who found they obtained as good results with aspirin as from the steroids such as cortisone.

Tomorrow we will discuss various forms of physical medicine but it must be pointed out that long-term treatment must be planned for each patient by the physician. "An adeqate rehabilitation program can be planned only if the patient's general medical condition, the use he has of his various muscles and joints, his vocational and economic status are known." During his initial stay in hospital he must become accustomed to his disease, must be taught certain techniques of heat, massage and exercise, and must be persuaded to cooperate in a home treatment program that is to continue for a long period of time. He must realize that although a home program does not cure or even arrest the disease of rheumatoid arthritis, such a program may prevent or at least minimize the crippling effects of the disease. It is these crippling effects that most sufferers are most concerned about and they are the ones he himself can do something about.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — U. S. State Department has discovered jazz. It's something that can be exported to foreign countries to reveal the American way of life. (It's culture, vulture.)

State Department's International Educational Exchange Service has just concluded its first successful experiment with this art form. It sent Dizzy Gillespie's jazz band on a tour of the Middle East. And did he send them!

"I made the Greeks lay down their rocks—and roll," said Dizzy on his return from a seven-week triumphal tour. He played in Abadan, Dakkar, Karachi, Beirut, Damascus, Aleppo, Ankara, Istanbul, Belgrade and Athens.

His experience was about the same in every one of these off-circuit cities. First performance drew only a few curious customers. Then by the mysterious grapevine that runs all through the Middle East, the word got around. Later performances were packed. And wild. (That's what they mean, jelly bean.)

THE GOVERNMENT paid Gillespie's band salary plus travel and expenses. For the troupe of 20 the payroll was $6,000 a week. Gillespie gave up his cut on the box office receipts. Whatever was collected will revert to the U. S. treasury.

The tour was financed by President Eisenhower's Special Emergency Fund for International Affairs. Half of it goes to the Commerce Department's trade fair program. The other half goes for sending abroad the best examples of American culture—"Porgy and Bess," symphonies, art shows—and now jazz. (They rate, gate.)

Gillespie's band played before President Eisenhower at the White House correspondent's dinner in Washington the other night, but he didn't seem to appreciate it.

He praised a chorus that sang Victor Herbert melodies and he had a kind word for James Cagney. But he overlooked a political pitch for the Negro vote by not mentioning either Gillespie or Nat King Cole, who also performed.

ONE OF THE MAIN REASONS for State Department's sending such artists abroad is that it helps offset foreign ideas of American prejudices against the colored race.

Prior to International Educational Exchange Service's sponsorship of the Gillespie tour, the U. S. Voice of America radio programs began scoring jazz successes.

In January, 1955, VOA started a two-hour program of American popular and jazz music. It was broadcast from Tangier and beamed at Scanadinavia.

Short wave radio plays tricks. Pretty soon fan mail began coming in from Asians. They said they had heard the program at some unearthly hour like four a. m. Couldn't they please change the time?

One letter said, "This is the best American propaganda I ever tasted."

So in April of this year VOA started scheduling "Music—U.S.A." for eight to 10 p. m. reception on a world-wide basis.

It IS A DISK JOCKEY show but steers away from request numbers and hit-tune programming.

First hour is popular music—dance bands and vocals. Second hour is jazz with about an equal mixture of old-fashioned Dixieland of the Eddie Condon type, classical jazz of the Benny Goodman era and contemporary Dizzy Gillespie rhythm.

Willis Conover m.c.'s the show five nights a week. He has his own orchestra, knows music, makes comments and sometimes interviews recording artists.

Ray Michael, a sports announcer, handles the week-end shows.

All are in English. Sometimes they're followed by a U. S. news broadcast.

The tapes are cut in Washington, royalty free. They are then sent out for broadcast from Tangier, Munich, San Fernando, P. I., Honolulu, Colombo, Bethany, Ohio, to South America and Dixon, Calif., to Central America.

The program gets behind the iron curtain, too. Numerous American visitors to those parts have been asked about the comparative jazz styles of Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, Duke Ellington and others. (That's a laugh, giraffe.)

(And that's the Washington jazz story, morning glory.)

Court Dissent in Job Ouster Seen Fortifying Red Alibi

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 6—The confusion inside the Supreme Court of the United States seems to grow with each week's decisions. This time the Communist party can boast of its greatest victory. Three out of nine justices have accepted the persistently expressed alibi of the Communists in this country that they are "just another political party."

The Congress has repeatedly proclaimed by law that the Communist party is not a political party but a conspiracy which waits for the opportune moment to overthrow the government of the United States.

THE THREE JUSTICES of the Supreme Court who have accepted the argument of the Communists that they are just a political party are Chief Justice Warren, Justice Douglas and Justice Black.

The opinion of the court in the case held that an employer in California was justified in discharging an employee because of membership in the Communist party and that it was covered by the contract between the union and the employer. Justices Harlan, Reed, Burton, Clark, Minton and Frankfurter concurred in the ruling of the court.

But Justice Douglas, writing a dissenting opinion in behalf of Chief Justice Warren, Justice Black and himself, said it wasn't a matter of a local contract and that the doctrine expounded by the majority "violates First Amendment guaranties of citizens who are workers in our industrial plants." Then Justice Douglas writes:

"I CAN BETTER illustrate my difficulty by a hypothetical case. A union enters into a collective-bargaining agreement with an employer that allows any employee who is a Republican to be discharged for 'just cause.' Employers can, of course, hire whom they choose, arranging for an all-Democratic labor force if they desire.

"A union has no such liberty if it operates with the sanction of the state or the Federal government behind it. It is then the agency by which governmental policy is expressed and may not make discriminations that the government may not make.

"But the courts may not be implicated in such a discriminatory scheme. Once the courts put their imprimatur on such a contract, government, speaking through the judicial branch, acts. And it is governmental action that the Constitution controls.

"CERTAINLY neither a state nor the Federal government could adopt a political test for workers in defense plants or other factories. It is elementary that freedom of political thought is protected by the Fourteenth Amendment against interference by the states, and against Federal regimentation by the First Amendment.

"Government may not favor one political group over another. Government may not disqualify one political group from employment. And if the courts lend their support to any such discriminatory program, Shelly v. Kraemer teaches that the government has thrown its weight behind an unconstitutional scheme to discriminate against citizens by reason of their political ideology. That cannot be done in America, unless we forsake our bill of rights.

"The court today allows belief, not conduct, to be regulated."

THIS MEANS that Robert Hutchins of the "Fund for the Republic," who thinks the Communist party is "just another political party" and who is spending Ford's millions to advocate that doctrine in America, has found staunch support in the views of three members of the Supreme Court.

It means also that these same justices reveal an inconsistency with their refusal last week to review a case in which two workers had appealed against a court decision compelling them to join a union, though it was against their religious beliefs as protected under the First Amendment of the Constitution.

Justice Douglas offered in support of his view in the California case just decided that Chief Justice Hughes in 1937 had ruled that a state couldn't punish Communists for holding a public meeting. But that was long before the true meaning of the Communist conspiracy was exposed, as it has been in the last ten years, and safeguards written into law by Congress.

JUSTICE Douglas says a defense plant may need to protect itself against sabotage, but that the worker wasn't guilty of any acts of sabotage. This means that the doctrine of prevention is being discarded and, if the argument is fully accepted, the Congress and the states must wait till bombs are thrown and complicity of an individual is actually proved before precautions can be taken against the hiring of agents of the Communist espionage and sabotage apparatus. It's all just a "political ideology" to Justices Warren, Douglas and Black.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 5—I first met Jesse Jones when I walked into his private business office in the Statler hotel in Washington to ask about the deadbeat loans which Elliott Roosevelt had received from John Hartford, of A and P stores, David G. Baird, an insurance man, Charles Harwood, and others. They amounted to about $400,000 and Elliott "settled" most of them for two cents on the dollar through the intercession of Uncle Jesse. Jesse put up the money for these "settlements" and it took Elliott years to pay even this bargain price.

The only creditor who refused to "settle" was Harwood, a Democratic club-house politician from Brooklyn who understood that his $25,000 "loan" was actually the purchase price of a job as Federal Judge which he never got. When Uncle Jesse urged Harwood to surrender his stock in Elliott's radio chain in Texas because it was practically worthless, Harwood answered, "well, if it isn't worth anything, it is no good to Elliott either. So I will just put it away and forget about it."

Actually, President Roosevelt was recapturing Elliott's pledged collateral to turn it over to Elliott's wife, in lieu of alimony when she got her divorce which was then in the works. This finally was done, all except Harwood's $25,000 worth which he later sold at a profit. With this stake, the lady later married a young lieut.-colonel who has been Elliott's pilot in a reconnaissance outfit in Africa.

In these matters Jesse took the position that he was dealing with shrewd, mature men who knew the score. He did not try to deceive them. The implication of blackmail by the president for his son's profit was so plain that Hartford, himself, gratuitously acknowledged it to deny it. Nothwithstanding his loss for Elliott's profit, he and his company took a bad course of harassment in the Federal Court which finally convicted A and P of providing abundance of the best food in the world at economical prices, in violation of the anti-trust law.

Jesse had a wry grinning respect for Harwood.

Mr. Jones was a handsome, big man with good features and a wise but not mirthless eye. He was born with the gift of making money and seemed to shun stocks, preferring land and buildings. Much of the development of Houston is a monument to his ability and judgment and much of the physical property of the city is owned by his many foundations.

During one of by visits at the Statler, Uncle Jesse said, "Haven't you got a foundation? Ought to start one. All the rich men have them."

He went to Tucson one winter and holed up at the beautiful Arizona Inn, founded by Mrs. Isabella Greenway King, who had been a congresswoman for Arizona. She promised absolute privacy to prominent guests. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., spent a number of winters there and Isabella, who had known Jesse in Washington, assured him that he could rest unmolested. Jesse was so weary that he had all his meals in his quarters and his family could not budge him out. I brought him a great bunch of sweet peas from my garden and a week later he sent a note. He thanked me for the flowers. Now that they had gone to seed, he would make pea soup of the pods.

Jesse secretly revealed Roosevelt's deviousness in lifting off the market at public expense a great estate adjoining his own at Hyde Park when he learned that "undesirable" persons were looking it over. Jesse steered me through the mazes of five corporations, all put together to tangle the trial of the property from the estate which was unloading it to the Department of Agriculture. Ostensibly, the D of A, under slapsy Henry Wallace, wanted the place for experimental planting. Actually, the department never used it for anything. And during the war the stables and other outbuildings were used as barracks for Roosevelt's special regiment of MP's, all at least six feet tall with a special uniform. One of them complained that the troops never knew when Eleanor Roosevelt might come whooping into their dormitory to show them off to royalty or other tourists.

A few years ago, the late Jim Moffet, an oil man and early New Deal Democrat, now down on his luck, subpoenaed Jesse in a suit over oil properties. Jesse said he had heart trouble and could not stand the strain. Moffett got wind of a big pot which Jones had won in a poker game at the 29-Club, a small New York group of rich men also known as the dead end kids.

The pot amounted to thousands and Moffet insisted that a man who could stand that tension was not too sick to testify. I called on Jesse and asked him to replay the round from memory. He did, recounting his own hole cards and his draw until, at the sixth card, I raised a hand.

"Wait a minute! You already have five cards. What is this thing you are playing?"

"Why seven-toed Pete," uncle Jesse said. "With red fives and one-eyed jacks wild and gilligallos and roodles!"

"Uncle Jesse," I said, "the old west sure has gone to hell."

"It's a good game, he insisted. "Get more action without dealing so often!"

Roosevelt fired him from the Commerce Department to turn the RFC over to Wallace but Jesse raised such a row that Congress lifted the RFC out of Slapsy's jurisdiction. That was all Jesse wanted anyway. He had given the RFC an honest administration himself and did his best to keep it honest. It went corrupt after that but through no fault of Jesse Jones.

So They Say..

The only question in my mind is whether he (Mickey Mantle) is a greater hitter righthanded or lefthanded. In the other departments no one's better. Who can run with him? Who can field with him? And who can outthrow him?

Standard's Rapid Growth Is History

When Abraham I. Fienberg set up in business for himself in Albany's South End shortly after the turn of the century, he must have had high hopes for the success of his new enterprise. But even in his most optimistic moments, it's doubtful if he could have forseen the extent to which his one-man business would grow.

If it is true, as Emerson wrote, that an institution is the lengthened shadow of one man, then the great Standard Furniture Company of today, with its four large stores and its huge warehouse, is the lengthened shadow of Abraham Fienberg.

Incidentally, Standard Furniture today kicks off a special Anniversary Sale to celebrate its 55th year of business. Details of the big commemorative event are given elsewhere in this section of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Actually, the big furniture chain—which has modern stores in Kingston, Albany, Troy and Schenectady, plus a warehouse and outlet store in Troy—had its beginnings in a house-to-house selling back in 1901.

In that year, the founder of the chain began selling house furnishings from door to door to the people of Albany, at first largely in the South End, where he and Mrs. Fienberg lived for many years.

Sales experts concede that this is the most difficult kind of selling, but Fienberg kept at it, and soon built a loyal and steadily growing personal following of customers.

In 1907, feeling the time was right, he opened his first store, a small one by comparison with the ones that followed it, at 293 South Pearl street in Albany. Space was limited, and he also rented a one-story building at 268 South Pearl street that served as a stove store.

Just a year later, increasing business necessitated larger quarters, and Fienberg moved his growing furniture company to a two-story building at 267 South Pearl street. Even at the new location, an addition had to be built at the rear of the store to give enough room for the expanding business.

Over the long and busy years since, Standard's growth has continued at a steady pace, as satisfied customers returned year after year, and as the firm's reputation for good values spread more widely throughout the city, and even beyond.

Abraham Fienberg's furniture business had expanded so much by 1913 that he moved to 227 South Pearl street to a three-story building, and in 1923, after 22 long years of hard work and close attention to the needs and desires of his customers, he moved the firm into its own building.

Standard's first building of its own was at 112-116 South Pearl street — the company's present location in Albany. A connection with a building at 82 Hamilton street was constructed, and all the floors, including the basement, were completely modernized. In 1927, a new section was built that added 10,000 square feet to the main floor.

In 1936, two adjoining stores were added, giving the combined Standard store a front footage of 62 feet, permitting an attractive revolving window display. Space was added on the upper floors and in the basement, as well, as part of an expansion program that established the company's leadership in furniture sales in the county.

Standard made its first major move out of Albany County in 1939, when its steady progress brought a store to 267-269 Fair street in Kingston. Immediate acceptance by the people of Kingston and surrounding areas moved the company quickly into the position of leadership in all of Ulster County.

Expansion continued, and even accelerated, in the 1940 decade. In 1946, Standard's program of progress was marked by the opening of a large, modern store in Troy, now at 231 River street. One year later, the Albany store added more space on Mosher street, and established modern appliance, drapery and floor covering departments.

In the spring of 1948, the fourth store in Standard's chain was added at 121-129 Broadway, at State street. A completely up-to-date store, it includes a revolving window display.

In 1949, Standard completed its large warehouse at 547 River street, Troy, the focal point of the firm's fine delivery, repair and warehousing services to its customers. An outlet store in the warehouse offers bargains in new and used furniture.

Bowling Part Of Standard's Many Activities

Albany area bowlers last week saluted Standard Furniture Company for its leadership in supporting and sponsoring the sport, and extended congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of the firm's 55th anniversary.

The largest individual sponsor of bowling in the area, Standard was awarded the Bowling Sponsorship Award of the Year for 1954. In 1951, the firm was presented with a bronze bowling pin by members of the Major, Junior and Women's Individual Leagues of the company.

The company at present sponsors the Standard Women's Individual League of Albany; a men's league called the Standard Furniture Bowling League, also in Albany; the Standard Furniture Women's League, in Troy, and also sponsors a team in the Schenectady Jewish Friendship League.

Congratulatory messages were received from Bob Chalmers, Albany Times-Union bowling writer; Henry Levine, president of the Jewish Friendship League, and Hazel E. Champine, vice-president of the Standard Furniture Women's Bowling League.

Commenting on the company's "stellar support given bowling during the past 15 years," Chalmers declared that in his business dealings with the firm he had always found "the same courtesy, integrity and quality which have marked the company's activities in bowling."

Extending the "sincere congratulations" of her league, Miss Champine said her group is proud to represent in the sports field "a company that is symbolic of fine home furnishing."

Levine sent congratulations on Standard's 55th anniversary on behalf of the boys of the company-sponsored team in his league, and added, "Your sponsorship of the team during these past years has been very helpful to us."

THE CREDIT MANAGER SMILES

The idea that a credit manager is a dour, unsmiling character who distrusts everybody is dispelled by this shot showing Standard Furniture Company credit manager Frank Kowalczyk opening a time payment account for a new customer. Standard executives have established a policy of liberal and friendly credit at all four stores.

Standard's Gift to Boys Club

Ceremonies dedicating the new Arts and Crafts Room of the Albany Boys Club will be held soon, Club officials announced recently.

The room was given by the Standard Furniture Company in memory of the founders of the company, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Fienberg, and a bronze plaque is to be installed in the room at the time of the dedication ceremonies.

Presentation of the room to the Club was made by William Fienberg, president, and Chester Fienberg, general manager, of Standard Furniture.

Commenting that the Fienberg family had lived in Albany's South End for many years—on Arch St., Madison Ave. and Morton Ave.—Chester Fienberg said, "The feeling of the family in giving this Arts and Crafts room is that it is fitting for a South End family, running a business which still has a location in the South End, to contribute to the area where it has so many roots."

PLANNING 55TH ANNIVERSARY SALE

Leonard Rosen, standing, manager of the Standard Furniture Company's store in Albany, confers on details of the company's big anniversary sale with Chester L. Fienberg, left, general manager, and William A. Fienberg, president. The firm was founded in the South End of Albany in 1901 by Abraham I. Fienberg, and has grown steadily over the years to its present position of leadership in the field.

COME RAIN OR COME SHINE

William "Red" Miller, of Albany, a truck helper for Standard Furniture Company, helps unload a truck at the company's Troy warehouse. Good weather or bad makes no difference at this large warehouse, because the loading and unloading platforms are completely indoors.

Standard's Warehouse Largest in N. Y. State

Things are really rolling at the big furniture warehouse at 547 River street in Troy—and that's not just a figure of speech.

Standard Furniture Company maintains at that location the largest furniture warehouse in New York State outside the New York City area, and for very good reasons company officials William and Chester Fienberg, and head shipper Marvin Lape, take pains to see that all stock moves on wheels.

The reason is simple. When you can roll a piece of furniture, instead of having to carry it, you don't scrape it against walls, or bang the legs against other furniture. As a result, customers receive their merchandise in perfect condition.

From the moment stock arrives at the warehouse from the manufacturer, it is protected against damage. Right at the start, there's no chance of spotting or other damage from rain or snow, because the warehouse is so huge that the loading and unloading platforms are inside the building, under heated and sprinklered cover.

From the truck, large merchandise like living room suites is placed directly on special two-level pipe-steel racks, and easily wheeled by one man to its proper storage space. Smaller items are loaded to portable conveyors that can be set up to lead from the truck tailgate directly to the storage location.

The same "Keep 'em rolling" motto applies, but in reverse when merchandise is being removed from the warehouse for loading on Standard's own trucks for delivery direct to the customer's home.

Another important advantage of the Standard warehouse is its great size. Today's manufacturers don't have much storage space; when they make furniture they want to ship it right out to a retailer. And, to make a profit, they manufacture all year round.

But most retailers can't buy heavily in the slow seasons, because they haven't space to store merchandise. Standard's huge warehouse, with its tremendous storage space, permits the firm's buyers to make off-season purchases at substantial savings, because Standard can store the items until the busy retail season.

The savings realized in this manner are passed along to Standard's many thousands of customers, and have helped the company to maintain its position of leadership.

Standard Offers Sales Training

How much should a salesman know about his product?

Executives of Standard Furniture Company, considered in the trade to have the best-informed retail salesmen, believe that salesmen just can't know too much about the products they sell.

"Customers ask intelligent questions about the items they are considering purchasing," Chester L. Fienberg, general manager, said in discussing the company's extensive sales training program.

"They have a right to expect that they will get the right answers, in clear, concise but thorough terms," he added. "We feel that our salesmen must be able to provide such answers about our merchandise."

In support of this policy of salesman - education, Standard has subscribed to the entire set of training films, in color and with sound, put out by the National Retail Furniture Association.

In addition, Standard's salesmen take trips at frequent intervals through bedding and upholstery factories, and rug mills, in the area, to learn from observation and discussion with manufacturing personnel of the fine details of such products' construction.

The company's sales personnel also attend monthly meetings as part of the training program, at which experts from mills and factories, and from distributors, address them on various furniture products. Many of these sessions are featured by slide films and other explanatory material provided by the manufacturers, which help to emphasize the important structural details of the products.

"Since our four Standard stores carry more than 1,700 items of merchandise," Fienberg said, "our customers can well realize the importance of these sales education meetings in providing our salesmen constantly with up-to-the-minute information on the many varied products we have for sale."

40 Years of service with Standard Furniture. That's the total record of Michael DeCicco, Walter Burger and William Terpening. These men have seen the steady growth of Standard Furniture here in Kingston. Mr. Burger, our head shipper, has sent millions of dollars worth of merchandise to homes in the Kingston area. Mr. DeCicco, our service manager, has maintained the thousands of appliances sold by Standard Furniture. Mr. Terpening, "Bill", as we all call him, makes sure our merchandise and store looks clean and orderly at all times.

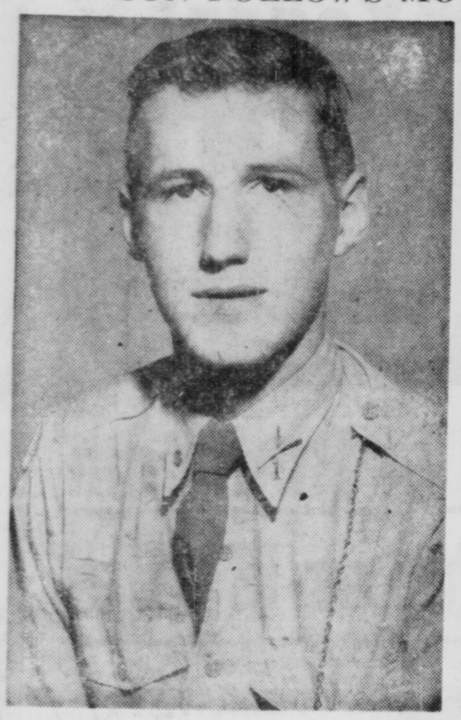
SON FOLLOWS MOTHER'S EXAMPLE



Howard Huntington, 17, a senior at La Salle Institute in Troy, liked what he heard about Standard Furniture Company from his mother, Mrs. Doris Huntington, credit manager of the Troy store, so he decided to work for the company in his free hours. Howard has been a general clerk in the Troy store for the past three years.

Standard Employment Is A Real Family Affair!

Best indication of whether a man likes the firm he works for is whether he wants his son to come to work for the company, according to personnel relations authorities.

If that's true, and there's no reason to doubt it, there's strong evidence that Standard Furniture Company must be a good place to work, because there are no fewer than three instances where two generations of the same family are employed.

First, there's Marvin "Bob" Lape, and his son Bill. Bob Lape has been with the company 31 years, and is now in charge of all warehousing, receiving and shipping. Bill Lape, a student at Siena College, works at Standard's Albany store on a part-time basis.

Another warehouseman with a son following in his footsteps is Ara Winchell, Troy shipper who works with Bob Lape in the River street warehouse.

His son, Walter — yes, that's Walter Winchell—works in the company's executive offices at 547 River street. He has been with Standard for three years now, including a part-time stint when he first started with the firm. Walter attends Siena College at night.

Third set of employe and son combinations has a different angle from the other two.

In this case, it's not a father-and-son twosome, but a mother-and-son combination.

The son is Howard Huntington, a six-foot, four-inch senior at LaSalle Institute in Troy, where he is a cadet lieutenant. The parent is Mrs. Doris Huntington, credit manager at the Troy store, where Howard has been a general clerk for three years.

Howard will enter Notre Dame in the fall, he says, and thinks he may work for Standard in summer vacations the next four years, if possible.

55th Anniversary Sale Is Hailed As A Potential Record-Breaker

The 55th Anniversary Sale of Standard Furniture Company has been hailed as a potential record-breaker in a congratulatory message to company officials from Harry Coplan, president of Retail Stores Service, Inc., national buying group of more than 500 independent merchants.

Coplan's telegram reads:

"Best wishes for your 55th anniversary event. As a 25-year affiliate of Retail Stores Service —America's largest group of furniture stores—we have watched your continuous growth and success.

"All of us here, and members everywhere, feel assured that with the preparations you have made for your 55th Anniversary Sale, your customers will receive the greatest values on up-to-the-minute merchandise. Your sales should be a record-breaker."

In commenting on the congratulatory wire, Standard president William Fienberg pointed out that the company's affiliation with Retail Stores Service means better buys for customers.

"The advantages of being part of a cooperative movement that has about a half-billion dollars of purchasing power a year are obvious," he said.

"The country's largest manufacturers often make special merchandise available to us exclusively. On merchandise which is not exclusive with us, we are often able to obtain special prices. In addition to these benefits—which we at Standard pass along to our customers — our membership in Retail Stores Service enables us to get merchandise on a faster delivery schedule than non-member stores."

Another additional benefit for member companies, and for their customers, is the knowledge of the furniture field and the vision of the men who run the service, Fienberg declared.

"Many furniture items originate in the minds of the Retail Stores Service executives," he added.

"For example, solid cedar wardrobes were first thought of by Retail Stores Service, and put into being by the group. They have enjoyed a boom for the past five or six years, with tens of thousands of them being sold."

He said that Standard Furniture Company is proud of its affiliation with the Service, which is the largest furniture buying group in the world "by a substantial margin."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Three Trump Leads Fatal

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Ten bids were needed to get South to a slam in diamonds when today's hand was played in the 1956 World Championship in Paris last January. If as much thought had gone into the play, the slam would have been fulfilled.

West opened the five of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer next led a low heart from dummy, and East took the king. East should have returned a club, but his choice was a trump.

Declarer won with the ace of trumps, cashed the queen of hearts, and led a second trump to dummy. So far so good, but now South made the fatal mistake of leading a third round of trumps. The hearts didn't break, and there just weren't enough tricks.

Instead of leading the third trump, South should have led the ace of hearts. If the suit broke, this play would get by safely and declarer could then draw the last trump. If the hearts failed to break, the only chance was to find the last trump in the same hand as the four hearts.

The rest of the play would have to be precise, but it would all work. The ace of hearts would reveal the situation, and South would next ruff a heart. He would get back to dummy with the king of clubs and would ruff a club (having discarded a club on the ace of hearts). He would cash the ace of spades to discard dummy's last club, ruff a spade to get back to dummy, and only then would it be time to draw the last trump. Dummy's last heart would provide the twelfth trick.

"A job like mine might be just right for YOU"

says NANCY DAY
OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK

"I like working as an operator for the telephone company here in Kingston. I've been here a year and a half. It's one of the nicest jobs any girl – married or single – could wish for. And here's why –

1. "The pay is good, right from the start. And you're guaranteed four raises the very first year, plus generous extras for work on Sundays and evenings. Just the other week my pay was $72.50. What's more, you can look forward to eleven paid holidays a year, and vacations, too.

4 Raises first year

2. "It's interesting work, and important. It's nice to know that your job is so helpful to folks, whether it's an emergency or just a social call.

Old friends

3. "You'll like the people you work with. Chances are, you already know quite a few of them, as friends from school or as neighbors.

4. "No experience necessary. The telephone company pays you full salary while you learn."

Boycotts Continue

(By The Associated Press)

Negro bus boycotts continued in two southern cities today in the wake of a ruling by a three-judge Federal Court panel that racial segregation on one of the bus line's was unconstitutional. A Negro spokesman said the boycott would go on in Montgomery, Ala., at least until a formal court order was issued carrying out the decision. A boycott also was in progress at Tallahassee, Fla. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) said 12 persons, "white and Negro from North and South," would meet in New York Saturday to consider whether the "time is ripe" for a nationwide program of passive resistance similar to the two bus boycotts.

Slightly Alcoholic

Detroit (AP)—You can't tell an alcoholic by the amount of whiskey he drinks. University of Michigan Prof. Max L. Hurt says the so-called social drinker whose intake is comparatively small should be classed as an alcoholic if he drinks because of personal problems.

DIED

TERRY—In this city, June 6, 1956, David Terry, of 182 North Manor avenue, age 86 years.

Funeral at the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street on Friday at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Cremation at the Gardner Earl Crematory at Troy, N. Y., on Saturday. Friends may call at the parlors on Thursday evening between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Chester A. Craig, Sr., who passed away four years ago today, June 6, 1952.

His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

Sadly missed.

NEW FACES IN THE BRINK'S ROBBERY—Edward Bennett (left) and John F. Buccelli are shown after they were taken into custody in South Boston during a raid on a tenement in which an estimated $100,000 was found hidden behind a wall. The money was identified as "definitely" part of the loot taken in the 1950 Brink's holdup. (NEA Telephotos)

President Urges Restudy of Aid For Yugoslavia

Washington, June 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the whole question of whether to continue United States aid to Communist Yugoslavia must be restudied in the light of Marshal Tito's new friendliness with Moscow.

HIS STATEMENT came at a news conference in which he:

1. Plugged hard for enactment of the administration's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program. The House Foreign Affairs Committee has voted a $1,109,000,000 cut.

2. Drew away from taking sides in primary contests between Republicans. Eisenhower said he believes it is not the place of the President of the United States to intervene in primaries.

ALSO ON the political front, Eisenhower declined to shed any light on whether he may campaign more vigorously this fall than he indicated in February. He said at that time he would do no barnstorming or whistle stop speaking, and would confine his efforts to mass communication approaches—that is, through newspapers, television and radio.

A reporter told Eisenhower that last week he had remarked at a Citizens for Eisenhower rally that he would "campaign" as energetically and as enthusiastically as he could.

Little Prospect Seen of Tax Cut

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Barring a marked business downturn, house tax writers today foresaw little prospect of voting a tax cut in the remaining days of this session.

Next year, they indicated, a general review of individual and business taxes may be in order.

Key members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee gave a cool reception to qualified recommendations made yesterday by the Committee for Economic Development (CED) for a tax cut of two billion dollars or more effective next Jan. 1.

The CED, which describes itself as a nonprofit economic research organization, proposed general income tax relief, provided there is a substantial treasury surplus for the coming fiscal year, starting July 1.

Rep. Mills (D.-Ark.), a senior member of the Ways and Means Committee, said Congress "is not justified in reducing taxes just because we have a little surplus."

Harriman Is Asked To Act on Charges

Albany, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—National Wildlife Federation officials have termed "libelous" and "puzzling" the charges that Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle made against his Bureau of Fish and Game.

And a department official has resigned in protest over Wehle's charges that "gross negligence or sabotage" led to the poison deaths of thousands of pheasants on a state reservation at Grenadier Island in the St. Lawrence river.

Durward L. Allen, president of the wildlife organization—which he said numbers 3,000 professional conservationists — urged Gov. Harriman to order an impartial investigation.

Allen said yesterday that if Wehle's charges were permitted to stand they would bring "national discredit" on the Harriman administration.

Wehle is a Harriman appointee.

Democrats Praise Citation Choice Of VFW for 1956

A statement read at last night's Common Council meeting commended Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars for their selection of Joseph Kelly, city editor of The Freeman, and former alderman-at-large, as their "Man of the Year."

The statement, read at the close of the session by Edwin F. Radel, third ward, originally contained the names of the six minority-party aldermen, but the others were included on request. It said:

"We, the undersigned Democratic aldermen of the City of Kingston, wish to express our commendation to Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for their choice of a candidate for "Man of the Year" award for 1956.

"Joe Kelly is best remembered by us in his capacity as alderman-at-large of the City of Kingston. His many friends at the testimonial dinner, and the press, commented on his many capabilities and services to the city.

"This citizenship award is a highly cherished honor of which Joe is well deserving."

Negotiations Start For Steel Contract

New York, June 6 (AP)—Negotiations for a new wage contract in the pivotal big steel industry got under way here today.

Officials of the United Steelworkers of America and the United States, Bethlehem and Republic Steel Corporations met in the Presidential Suite on the 12th floor of the Hotel Roosevelt.

Neither side issued any statement as the talks began, and both indicated there would be none during the day. The early stages of the talks were described as too broad to warrant any communiques.

The setting for the closed sessions, which could have a strong influence on the nation's economy, was informal.

In one out of six fatal traffic accidents, the weather is rainy, snowy or foggy.

RECEIVES COMMITTEE APPROVAL—Fred A. Seaton, assistant to President Eisenhower and former Nebraska senator, appears before Senate Interior Committee in Washington, June 5, before the committee unanimously recommended his confirmation as Secretary of the Interior. Seaton was questioned about public power, natural resources and other matters for an hour and a half. (AP Wirephoto)

5 Scientists Due

educational program development for the General Electric Company.

According to Boyd Miller, chemistry teacher at Kingston High School, who is publicity chairman for the conference, over 800 science teachers from the State of New York have been invited. Registration will begin at 2 p. m., Wednesday, June 27, in the College Union building on the campus at New Paltz. Following a business meeting that afternoon at 4 o'clock, the science teachers will have a steak roast picnic, will see some outdoor movies and then will gather for a social hour.

Beginning at 5:30 a. m., Thursday, Dr. Heinz Meng, ornithologist at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, will conduct a bird walk for interested group members, and at 9 o'clock that morning, the scientists will hear the panel discussion concerning the need for more and better scientists.

In the afternoon, several field trips have been arranged for the visiting science teachers, including tours of the International Business Machines Company in Poughkeepsie, the Texas Company Research Laboratories in Beacon, the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company's generating station in Newburgh, and Steward Field Air Base in Newburgh. There will also be a field trip on geology in the Catskill region, a nature study trip, and a visit to a quaking bog.

Dr. Ruth Ellis, professor of chemistry at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, will present an illustrated lecture entitled, "Travels of a Science Teacher in India" at a banquet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

FRIDAY MORNING the science teachers will divide into discussion groups.

Dr. Harold Tannenbaum, professor of education at New Paltz, will conduct an elementary and general science workshop in electricity; Dr. L. Royal Christiansen, Bellevue Medical Center of New York University, will discuss "The Role of Laboratory Animals in Medical Research"; and Donald B. Stone, Mont Pleasant High School, Schenectady, will lead a discussion on "The High School Earth Science Syllabus."

OTHER SPEAKERS include Dr. Harry Prebluda, manager, of special products sales of the United States Industrial Chemicals Company, who will speak on "The Next 50 Years in Biochemistry"; and Dr. Gardiner Tucker, senior physicist of the IBM Research Laboratories, who will discuss, The Physics of Transistors."

Dr. Donald S. Allen, chairman of the natural science division at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, and Eldred Ross, Walden High School, are co-chairmen of the general committee for the Conference.

Cement Plant

uating and coordinating various phases of city planning.

The letter, signed by Lawrence J. MacAvery, chairman, said such professional men had been invited for interview.

THE WATER BOARD in advising consideration of a better mileage rate for its employes noted that the rate here is much below that now in effect for county and state employes, and it asked an amendment to the local law so that the rate could be made "at least equal" to the others.

Corporation Counsel Abernethy explained in a letter that Mayor Stang had rejected a bid of $8,000 May 10 for the Orpheum Theatre, at a tax sale, that no bids had been received on two other properties, and another was to be added to the July 3 auction.

The corporation counsel also proposed a codification of local ordinances, and suggested that a council committee consider it. He had written two firms, who forwarded samples and he showed them to the members of the council last night. The proposal was referred to the finance committee.

Lavandin Wins Derby

Epsom, England, June 6 (AP)—Lavandin, a French colt owned by Pierre Wertheimer, rushed down the stretch in the rain today at Epsom Downs and won the 17th running of the English Derby in a stirring photo finish with American-owned Montaval. Twenty-seven 3-year-olds started in the gruelling mile and one half race, and Lavandin barely held off the closing surge of Montaval, another French horse, owned by R. B. Strassburger, formerly of Norristown, Pa., now living in France. The finish was so close that judges called for a look at the pictures, then awarded the decision to Lavandin by a nose.

Teeners Must 'Belong'

Philadelphia, June 6 (AP)—Four young men, representing major organizations for young people, told the 47th annual convention of Rotary International today that "the feeling of belonging is a basic factor in the makeup of every teenager," no matter where he lives. "If the feeling of belonging does not come from a youth's family or society, then he will create it himself," said Thomas J. Corrigan, of Philadelphia, representing the Boys Clubs of America. Often, Corrigan added, in his prepared talk, that is the beginning of teenage gangs whose members end up stigmatized as juvenile delinquents.

Mollet Backers Fewer

Paris, June 6 (AP) — Premier Guy Mollet today had a new mandate from the National Assembly to put down the Nationalist rebellion in Algeria but less than half the deputies would stand up and be counted as supporters of the government.

Thinks Senate Will Lower Benefit Age

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D.-Fla.) said today he believes the Senate will vote to allow all eligible women to draw social security retirement benefits at age 62.

Smathers said in an interview he thinks the vote on a proposal to set up a new social security disability program will be "real close."

A social security bill passed by the House a year ago would have established a program of benefits for persons permanently and totally disabled at age 50 or above. It also would have allowed women to draw social security benefits at age 62. The present minimum is 65 for men and women.

Saugerties Gets

the two years 1958-59 and 1959-60.

Glasco's previous bonded indebtedness will add $7 to the basic tax rate, making the Glasco district's highest tax rate $72.79 in the year 1958-59.

After the year 1959-60, the tax rate will start to fall, the study shows. Several local board members believe the tax rate, as submitted by the state, is higher than it actually ever will become due to the rapid building of houses in this district which is adding assessed valuation faster than the percentage used by the state statisicians.

New buildings are not the major items of cost, he said. 1958-60 will call for the highest tax rate. The budget for the highest year (1958-59) is estimated at $1,113,956. The cost of paying for the new bond issue that year (principal and interest) is $229,825—only 21 per cent of the total budget and each year thereafter this percentage will decline. It will be approximately 19 per cent in the year 1961-62.

As always the major cost under the budget are not for new buildings but for salaries, civil service expense, instructional supplies, heat, light, etc., Dr. Morse said.

It is estimated that the total enrollment in the Saugerties Central School system in the year 1959-60 will be approximately 2,000 pupils, not counting any influx from new residents but using only current census figures. There will be approximately 97 members on the faculty at that time, including administrators and supervisors. "So we see it is children that make for cost in education," Dr. Morse said.

Man Is Paroled

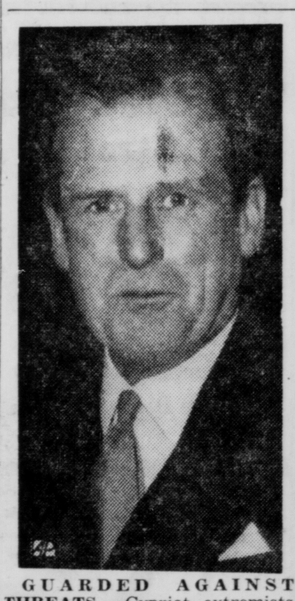
Robert Howell, 41, of East Kingston, one of three men arrested Saturday by state police on a charge of having taken scrap iron and steel from the Overlook Mountain House property, was paroled in the custody of his counsel, William A. Kelly, Tuesday by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn. All three men, William Harris, 52, of 32 East Union street; John Williams, 43, of 20 Ann street, and Howell had been held for grand jury action by Justice George Braendly of Woodstock. Howell, who allegedly drove the truck on one occasion, denied he was involved in the taking of the property and claims he was an innocent "pawn" in the affair.

Impounds Ballots

New York, June 6 (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits early today ordered all ballot boxes in Manhattan impounded after receiving more than 150 fraud complaints in the Liberal party primary for New York county surrogate. A spokesman for Javits said the complaints related to the contest involving Supreme Court Justice S. Samuel Di Falco and Morton Baum, a Republican. Baum conducted a write-in campaign for the Liberal nomination. Di Falco was leading by a 3-1 margin early today. Di Falco was unopposed on the Democratic ticket and Baum was unopposed in the GOP election.

Depends on Talks

New York, June 6 (AP)—A spokesman for the Metropolitan Opera says the curtain will not go up for the 1956-57 season unless labor negotiations are resumed by midnight tonight. Contract talks between the Metropolitan Opera Assn. and the American Guild of Musical Artists (AGMA) collapsed last night in general disharmony.



GUARDED AGAINST THREATS — Cypriot extremists June 5 threatened the life of Sir John Harding, seen leaving London's Colonial Office June 4. The threat resulted in British police immediately tightening a security net around Cyprus' Governor. The threat was contained in leaflets thrown from speeding car in Manchester, England. Harding is in London for conferences on Cyprus unrest. (AP Wirephoto) noted the assessment had been reduced from 2 per cent to 1½ per cent in the past year and that further reduction may be possible during the next fiscal year.

Gutman said in his letter that the commission needed to "step up its effort to improve waterfront conditions."

He said that the commission had said that up to the present its work had "largely been a holding operation confined to licensing and eliminating the more flagrant abuses."

Gutman wrote Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the shipping association:

"The governor will support the commission fully in its attempts to deal with waterfront conditions that require action, and he expects the shipping industry, whom you represent, to give full cooperation to this effort."

Complete Support

Rep. James G. Donovan lost the Democratic nomination in Manhattan's 18th Congressional District after he was denied Tammany Hall endorsement. The Tammany choice, State Sen. Alfred E. Santangelo, beat out Donovan and a third entry in the race, Casper Citron.

Donovan, is the man who, with coalition backing, originally unseated the late Vito Marcantonio, of the left-wing American Labor party. He will still be on the ballot this year, having won the GOP nomination without opposition.

The Republicans and Democrats each elected 86 convention delegates in the primary. The Democratic State Committee later will select 24 delegates at large, each with a half vote, and the GOP committee will pick 10 delegates at large, with a full vote apiece.

Tammany leader Carmine G. DeSapio, one of Harriman's chief political lieutenants, said he was "very, very satisfied" with the election results.

leadership, personality, appearance and character. The representatives are sponsored by local organizations.

The girls are taught government from the town, county, city and state level during the eight-day session, the mayor said.

A miniature government is set up and daily lectures are given. The government is established as Empire State, Huguenot county and Colonial City. Two parties, the Nationalists and Federalists, are formed and representatives elect their party leaders, hold party conventions and sessions of the board of supervisors, common council, assembly and senate.

On the last day of the convention the girls visit Albany and participate in an actual session of the Senate and Assembly. They perform the functions of the session, including the preparations of bills and debate the issues.

The governor of the girls' state is sworn in by the Secretary of State of New York and the girls hear an address by the governor of New York state.

More than 275 girls attended last year's session, Mayor Stang said.

The citizenship convention is sponsored by the New York State Department, American Legion.

Bridge Traffic

vided safe river crosing for only 122,512 vehicles this year during May as compared to 154,822 for the same month last year. This was a drop of 32,310 or 20.87 per cent.

Showing the least decline was the Mid-Hudson Bridge with a decrease for the month of only 1,815 vehicles or .50 per cent. Last year in May traffic amounted to 366,110 vehicles, while last month 364,295 vehicles used the bridge.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, June 5—The June meeting of the WSCS of Modena Methodist Church meets Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Eldred Smith on the Ardonia road.

The members of Modena Fire Department will meet Thursday evening at 8 p. m. at the firehouse, to make further arrangements for their participation in the annual convention and parade of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, to be held July 26, 27, 28 in Modena, Ireland Corners and New Paltz, jointly. The complete schedule will appear at a later date.

Modena Rod and Gun Club have a meeting scheduled for Friday evening, at 8 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial hall.

Movie night, sponsored by the chairman of the Cerebral Palsy Fund campaign in the towns of Gardiner and Plattekill, will be held Friday at 7:30 at the Hasbrouck Memorial hall, Modena. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Oscar Jansen, Mrs. Frank Majestic of Gardiner; Mrs. Albert Molson and Mrs. Frank M. Coy of Modena. A food sale will also be conducted and refreshments served. No preliminary solicitations will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Hedges of this place, were featured on "This Is Your Life" during the literary program at a recent meeting of Plattekill Grange. Mr. and Mrs. Hedges have been Grangers for nearly 51 years, and have attended the Plattekill Grange for nearly 33 years. The program for the evening was based on the theme, Family Life. The guests of honor were presented with flowers, candy, cards and a scrap book containing a brief story of their life and family pictures. Mrs. Milton Van Duser, of Plattekill, a former resident, read a very interesting original paper on Family Life, and a skit was presented by Milton Van Duser and son, Charles.

Several old songs were sung and readings were given by Mrs. George Martin and Mrs. Burton R. Ward. Mrs. Frank Woodruff, lecturer, was in charge of the program.

Students of Modena School held a Field Day at the school Friday, when races and games were conducted. Several of the students are completing their studies at the local school and will enter Wallkill Central School at the fall season.

Carolee Coy and Marylou DuBois are among the members of the 1956 graduating class of the Krissler Business Institute at Poughkeepsie, attending the dinner given at the Pleasant Valley Hotel, Pleasant Valley on Monday evening.

Rosendale, June 5 — The Ladies' Aid Society of the Rosendale Reformed Church will sponsor a food sale at the town clerk's office on Main street Saturday, at 10 a. m.

Dedication Held For New Firehouse

Rosendale, June 5—A steady rain Saturday afternoon failed to dampen the spirits of several hundred people who participated in or witnessed the official opening and dedication of the Rosendale firehouse on Main street.

A parade was held, starting at John street, down James street, across the bridge, and to Main street to the firehall. Several nearby area fire companies, as well as other organizations, marched in the rain to help Rosendale celebrate the opening of their fire hall.

A number of dignitaries spoke in the brief ceremony that was held. Among them was Mayor John Mooney who later cut the ribbon to signify the opening of the hall. Also present to say a few words were former chief of the Kingston Fire Department, Joseph Murphy; Deputy Chief Harold Sanford; Wilfred Doolittle, president of the Rosendale Fire Company, acted as master of ceremonies.

Following the official opening, refreshments were served to everyone, by members of the ladies auxiliary of the Rosendale Fire Department.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP) — A dozen years after the Normandy landing, the mightiest amphibious operation in history, many military men feel sure of one thing —mankind will never see another one like it.

The spectacle of massed navies, bombarding a foreign shore as they unleash thousands of attacking troops, is probably a thing of the past. It is almost as outmoded as a clash between knights on horseback.

THE AMPHIBIOUS operation is one of the oldest forms of war, as old as the first war canoe that landed behind a surprised enemy.

It is also one of the most imaginative and difficult of maneuvers to execute. It is always a titantic gamble, made perilous by hidden reefs and the whims of wind and weather.

When the amphibious operation succeeds, it often succeeds brilliantly. But when it fails, it is often an irretreviable disaster.

THE BEST known example of an amphibious landing that failed is, of course, the dismal fate of "the invincible armada" of Spain.

In 1588 proud Philip II sent 130 ships to humble upstart Britain. They carried 7,000 sailors and 17,000 troops.

The British weren't quite the underdogs they have sometimes been made out to be. They engaged the Spanish armanda with 197 ships, although many were small vessels. But they had superior seamanship, fought at long range, and were better organized than the loosely-knit Spanish.

AFTER A SERIES of disastrous battles and storms, only 54 ships of the armada were able to reach home, and Spain began going downhill as a naval power. The whole operation had been poorly planned.

The Normany landing will perhaps go down in the textbooks as the classic example of a successful amphibious operation.

Just 12 years ago this morning, after being postponed 24 anxious hours because of bad weather, it happened. The English Channel was speckled with hundreds upon hundreds of converging ships carrying scores of thousands of battle-clad soldiers. The sky swarmed and thundered with planes that came and went . . . and came and went again . . . and fire flamed and blood flowed on beaches called Omaha and Utah.

NO ONE WHO was part of that tremendous effort that day and is alive now can ever forget it, the feeling of unity combined from the joint strivings of hundreds of thousands of men over weary months, all forged into one supreme purpose—to land and seize a few strips of sandy soil and the pastures beyond. There was a terror and exultation in being part of it.

The allied operation succeeded so well that 26 days later General Eisenhower's command had put ashore a million men, 566,648 tons of supplies and 171,532 vehicles. It had suffered 60,770 casualties—the attacker usually pays higher initially—and taken 41,000 prisoners, and the German doom began.

TODAY COULD such an operation succeed? Hardly. Assuming an enemy had the H-bomb, the massing fleets to support a major landing would be suicidal. A few well placed hell bombs would turn any massed navy into debris.

Further development of guided missiles with H-bomb warheads —one bomb hits, one city disappears—makes even the thought of another Normandy-landing-type operation seem quaint and old-fashioned and unnecessary.

For better or for worse, the art of warfare has progressed so fast that the whole earth is a potential beachhead.

Wherever you live is a target.

Milk Interests Told to Submit Briefs to Benson

New York, June 6 (AP)—A two-week hearing on whether dairy farmers in the New York milkshed should get a higher price for milk ended last night.

Lawyers for various groups either seeking or opposing a price increase were directed to submit briefs to U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets by next Tuesday.

Earlier, Harry Polikoff, attorney for ice cream manufacturers, testified that ice cream, butter and cheese prices will go up if the New York milk price is raised to match the midwest price.

Polikoff represented the southern regional group of the Assn. of Ice Cream Manufacturers of New York State.

He said a suggestion by University of Wisconsin Prof. Hugh L. Cook that New York producers base their prices on those in the midwest plus transportation costs would add at least 20 cents to the present price of $3.10 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for Class 3 manufacturing milk.

Ice cream makers, he added, "are the best customers of the New York farmer for this kind of milk."

Hearing Officer G. Osmund Hyde denied motions by Polikoff and others to strike Cook's report, or its conclusions, from the record.

The motions contended Cook's report was not relevant to the plight of the New York dairy farmer.

Cook's study was made for the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn. of Syracuse. He denied he was representing any midwest state "in any manner."

Kerhonkson Lions Hold Victory Dinner

The Kerhonkson Lions Club members dined and entertained the victorious Kerhonkson High School football players, basketball players, cheerleaders and coaching staff at the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association Clubrooms on May 29.

Lions Club members prepared and served a prime rib roast of beef dinner. Coupled with the usual fun making and laugh provoking antics of Lion members, the evening was an enjoyable one for all present.

After dinner the students enjoyed dancing. Lions President Dane Koefoed remarked in closing the evening festivities "that if large appetites are indicative of Championships, Kerhonkson need not worry about the future."

Appellate Court Favors Ed Sullivan

New York, June 6 (AP)—The Appellate division of the State Supreme Court has sided with Ed Sullivan, television producer and columnist, in his efforts to prevent a Buffalo firm from using the trade name, "Ed Sullivan Radio and TV, Inc."

The division yesterday unanimously reversed a decision by Supreme Court Justice Walter A. Lynch, who had denied Sullivan's motion for a temporary injunction.

The Buffalo concern is headed by Edward J. Sullivan of (123 Wildwood avenue) Buffalo. He submitted an affidavit to back his contention that he has been known many years as "Ed Sullivan."

The columnist contended that the Buffalo firm was trying to capitalize on his name, that he was not associated with the corporation, and that he would suffer "irreparable damage" unless use of the name was enjoined.

Lynch had held that every man has the right to use his own name honestly and that there was no conflict of interest between the columnist and the Buffalo firm.

TILLSON NEWS

CE Society Group Attends Convention

Tillson, June 5—A number of people from the Tillson Christian Endeavor Society attended the annual convention of the New York State Christian Endeavor Unions held at the Memorial Presbyterian Church in Watervliet May 24-27.

The local organization entered a float in a parade held on May 26, and was awarded first place. Since the theme of the convention was "Christ Shall Reign," local CE members made a float of hand-made flowers in the form of a cross. On the float the children, all dressed in costmues of various nationalities, looked up at the cross. The color scheme was blue, white and silver.

Those attending included Richard Serenbetz, Kathryn Serenbetz, Betty Martin, David Talleur, Judith Clark, Judith Menzel, Katy Tsontarides, David Mollenhauer, Randolph Van Keuren, Janet Wakeley, Ann Hill, Patricia Hill, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Serenbetz and Richard Talleur, leaders of the local society.

Mrs. Serenbetz was installed as Regional director of the CE for the Hudson Valley.

Eugene Nicholas New Commander Of Olive Legion

Eugene Nicholas was elected commander of Olive Memorial Post 1627, American Legion, at a meeting held Monday evening.

Other officers installed by Ernest J. Gardiner, Ulster county commander, included Robert Burgher, first vice commander; Robert Crispell, second vice commander; Donald Bishop, third vice commander; Simeon Trowbridge, adjutant; Herbert Wells, finance officer; Robert Johansen, sergeant-at-arms; Edward West, historian; Jack Darling, chaplain.

Mr. Bishop was elected trustee for three years. The auditing committee includes Mr. Bishop, Mr. Trowbridge and H. Edgar Timmerman. Commander Nicholas and Mr. Trowbridge were named delegates to the county and Ed West and Ernest Gardner, alternates.

The post also voted to hold a carnival sometime in July and a picnic for the town in August.

Czechs Taking Down Part of 'Curtain'

Vienna, June 6 (AP) — Police said today Czechoslovakia has starting tearing down its barbed wire barriers on the Austrian border, following Hungary's example.

The Vienna newspaper Neue Tageszeitung quoted high Czech officials as saying the Communist Czech government soon would clear away all its fortifications on the Austrian frontier. But it said the barriers on the West German border would stay.

During the past week Czech soldiers reportedly have cut wire fences opposite the Austrian border station of Kittsee and along the highway leading to the Slovak capital of Bratislava.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at Hasbrouck Hall, Modena, Friday, June 15 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Shokan

Shokan, June 5—Callers here Saturday included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yorks, Watson Hollow residents of long standing. The former Mary Avery and her husband were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mosher, Warwick couple who have a summer home on the former Delos Eckert place, and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baker, also of Warwick.

Paul Goldberg of New York was in town Saturday. He is the son of the late Albert Goldberg who was well known here in waterworks days. The Goldberg family still own 10 acres of woodland along the north side of Route 28 at Temple's Pond, the tract being that part of their Plank Road property not taken by the city for reservoir purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zanis and small daughter, Anna, spent a part of last week at the home of Mrs. Zanis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert, before going to visit relatives in Pennsylvania on their return trip to Covington, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Schultz of New York motored here Saturday and opened up their Ridge road bungalow for the season. The couple bought the 2-acre property of the Walter Naughtons last year.

A number of people in the church hill neighborhood complain of unsatisfactory television reception in that sector of Shokan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Golden of New York have opened their summer place, the former Hannibal Ford property near High Point which they bought last year. The Goldens have previously rented the one time Jules Breucheaud house for several years.

Kay Helm, Quarryville antique dealer, was a Shokan caller Saturday. Mrs. Helm also has a loom in her shop and makes rag rugs.

Visiting the local museum Sunday were the Rev. Harlan Kishpaugh and wife of the Olive Bridge Methodist parsonage. The couple brought along their weekend guests, the Rev. C. A. Gabriel and wife of Duluth, Minn. The Gabriels were attendants at the Kishpaugh's wedding which took place in their home 28 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie VanBenschoten were Shokan callers Sunday. Archie, who has been employed as a county surveyor for many years, was born and brought up in the old village of West Shokan.

Mass is celebrated at the Presentation Church every morning at 7 o'clock and Saturday at 8 o'clock.

Montana Favors Kefauver, Ike

Helena, Mont., June 6 (AP)—Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver, jolted by his primary defeat in California, could take some solace today in being assured of Montana's 16 votes at the Democratic national convention.

At the same time President Eisenhower claimed the state's 14 Republican convention votes in yesterday's presidential primary, the first in Montana since 1924.

Kefauver's was the only name on the Democratic ballot, but a scattering of written votes also went to former Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson, New York Gov. Averell Harriman, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

On the Republican side, Eisenhower gained his delegates in a lopsided victory by Secretary of State S. C. Arnold, a favorite son stand-in for the President, over Lar Daly of Chicago, entered as the American First Republican Party candidate. Arnold has pledged his convention votes to Eisenhower.

Rules on Suits

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Owners of New York property damaged by operations of the St. Lawrence power project can bring suit in the State Supreme Court, Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits of New York has held. Suits that arise from land-taking by the New York State Power Authority would be heard in the Court of Claims, he said. Rep. Ostertag (R-N.Y.) had written Javits for clarification of the legal situation for owners of shore property along Lake Ontario. He said that some of them feared damage from high waters resulting from construction of power dams.

Virginia built the first toll road in the United States in 1786. It was the Little River turnpike.

Nasser-Tito Talks Set for Mid-June

Cairo, Egypt, June 6 (AP)—The morning newspaper Al Shaab reported today Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser will go to Belgrade in mid-June for talks with Yugoslav President Tito that will "have a resounding echo in the international sphere."

Pointing out that the meeting will take place shortly after Tito ends his current visit to Moscow, the newspaper said it "will be preceded by an announcement of important news which cannot be divulged now."

The Nasser-Tito meeting, Al Shaab said, will "contribute largely to the strengthening of the neutral bloc."

Police Search Vessel

New York, June 6 (AP)—The Dominican Line freighter Fundacion returned to New York today and detectives swarmed aboard to probe charges that a foe of the Dominican Trujillo regime had been tossed alive into the ship's flaming boilers. The Trujillo foe, Dr. Jesus De Galindez, an instructor at Columbia University, disappeared on March 12. Recently Nicholas Silva, spokesman for the Anti-Trujillo Dominican Revolutionary party, went to authorities with a story that he had heard that Galindez was kidnaped and tossed into the ship's firebox when the vessel was here last.

Council Opens Way for Traffic stressed, in a letter to the council: "In a program of this kind, we must do what accomplishes the greatest good for the greatest number, and it is my very sincere belief that the present one-way pattern is the best answer to the traffic problem that confronts the City of Kingston today. I strongly urge and recommend that your Honorable Body approve an ordinance covering the designation of one-way streets as they now exist."

OTHER MERCHANTS spoke against the proposal and Richard V. Roth, (R) 12th ward alderman, read a petition, signed by 107 residents of the ward, which declared in part that "Peaceful living is no longer possible in this area. Great monsters of the highway go roaring through these streets by day and by night, arousing from sleep, fraying nerves, and endangering property."

Another petition opposing the system, signed by six members of the 11th ward, through introduction by Alderman William A. Davis, (R) of that ward, and with the other, was referred to the traffic committee.

Attorney James C. Plunket, of 316 Washington avenue, who said he was speaking as an individual, said property values were depreciating along Washington avenue, Pearl and Main street, and Edward H. Franz, of the City Garage, 154 Clinton avenue, said he actually lost a customer through the confusion caused by the one-way system.

Clyde E. Wonderly, Jr., of The Wonderly Co., Inc., 314 Wall street, who spoke in favor of the plan, said: "We've had a trial. It has worked," and he felt it is "expensive to correct it on a temporary basis." All should be considered, he held, and not just those in the area. Lack of parking space, he felt, was the bigger problem.

John Machione, of 23 Janet street, noted that one group not represented at the meeting was the city's children. The danger to children can be noted any morning on Washington avenue, he said, and he held that any solution should take into consideration the fact that "they will be the business of tomorrow, if they are give a chance to grow up."

London, who talked longest in behalf of the uptown merchants, held that "glaring faults," made the system unsatisfactory. He had no personal ax to grind, he said, but was "interested in the convenience and ease of our customers in getting into this area."

THE BIGGEST single point to be considered, he said, was that the system "blocked out those entering from the west. They have put up a great big 'Do Not Enter,' sign," and he held that the only entrance to the main uptown shopping area now was over Lucas avenue and John street from Washington avenue.

"Certainly these are not main arteries," he argued, and to validate this, he said, one has "only to look at them during the rush hours." He held that many miss the first left turns and go to Pearl street, and by the time they get there "they are shuttled right out of the area."

London argued that it was more difficult now to get to the "court house" and Montgomery Ward parking lots, but Kurdt held that access was easier now, at least to the lot near the court house.

"Once people get out of their cars," London said, "they still have a problem in crossing streets, and in many instances pedestrians have the choice of crossing at certain places or dodging cars along the streets.

PEOPLE HE contended, go to particular shopping areas because of "the whole business area"...."and when we have a traffic situation as we have now, we have them cut the business area."

Merchants voted 57 to 40 for two-way traffic on North Front street, and for larger parking areas. The Chamber of Commerce, he said was about one-third business men, but of a relatively small percentage from the uptown area.

The one thing solved by the system, he said, was double parking, but the business men feel that they would "rather have that, than to isolate the area." He held also that "this raceway on North Front street, is quite a problem."

PLANS FOR the arterial route, elimination of the Washington avenue viaduct, and the building of another access street from a point near Washington and Hurley avenues into the business district, he considered, "nebulous," or "all in the distant future."

The majority of the uptown business men, he said, "spent many years to build up their businesses." They consider the one-way system not a good plan, and ask consideration of "the real solution . . . more and better parking. It is a healthy and expanding business area, and it demands that we have more parking, and not isolation."

Kurdt said he thought London had made a "fine presentation of the subject," but held, "I do not think it reasonable to expect that streets laid out two or three centuries ago, can accommodate today's traffic."

Cruising in the area to find parking space, he said, has been cut 50 per cent by the one-way system. More people are coming into the area, he said, and he claimed, "It is now actually easier to get to the court house parking lot."

Kurdt said the Chamber of Commerce was convinced that traffic congestion "has chased business out of that area," and he revealed that of the 575 post cards mailed out to get reaction on the one-way system, 351 were returned, and only 19 of those were opposed.

Kurdt said he was not saying that "all of the rest were in favor. He noted that 72 had suggestions for changes."

London held that polls were "fascinating things," but were not always right, as has been noted in election polls, because of failure in "asking proper questions." He found, he said that his answers did not agree with "those of Mr. Kurdt." Most women, he said, do the shopping, and when you "ask the men you're not measuring what you want to measure."

Edward Franz, of the City Garage, said he was told by a customer who had difficulty in solving the one-way parking system to get to Clinton avenue, that he was going to Hudson to buy a car. To strangers in the area, he indicated, it is often a question of "Where the devil do you go from here?"

Alderman Ryan, 10th ward, who is a member of the council's traffic control committee, asked London, if he had any proposed solutions of the problem. London indicated he would "like to sit down with the traffic expert (Murphy) and say we've got a problem," and determine if a solution can be achieved.

DOUBLE PARKING, he thought might be eliminated, when adequate parking is provided elswhere, by eliminating parking on one side of North Front street. It might not work, he said, but he thought it worth a try. The arterial route, and the new street proposed by Mayor Stang, he thought, would help. Also loading and unloading at certain times of the day in the area, as has been proposed, might help.

Mayes indicated, after various aldermen had explained their vote on the Keyser motion, that he was first of the opinion that the committee wished to be free of further consideration of the proposal.

THE EXPLANATION drew a ripple of reaction in the audience, and when Keyser noticed it, he explained that he had not tried "to pull a fast one," where Mayes was concerned.

"I don't think public opinion should be expressed in the minority . . . and I asked Mayes if he would go along to bring it out into the air," for a vote, and he stressed, "We all had three months in which to think it over."

Alderman Ryan said he felt that all negotiations on the proposal were between the mayor and others. He said he felt that the committee was, entitled to meet with Murphy, the expert, and otherwise make further study.

Radel also continued that the mayor acted "completely alone," and "at no time did he come to this council and discuss, the proposal." Much comment picked up, he felt, could be biased. Many are of different opinion, and all should be considered, he indicated.

George F. McArdle, (D) 13th ward, chairman of the traffic committee, said he felt that the system "has a certain amount of merit," but he believed that the committee was entitled to more time, and George P. Norton, Jr., (R) sixth ward, also of the committee said he "would like to see it through."

William K. Bodenweber, (D) ninth ward, said he failed to see how the proposal could be taken out of the committee's hands, when they have not had opportunity "to meet and maybe solve it."

Alderman Roth said he felt as though he could not neglect the wishes of the people in his ward concerned.

Mayor Stang's letter to the council noted that action to consider a one-way pattern for uptown dated back to last fall and originated with uptown merchants.

THEY INDICATED, he said, that "the design for traffic flow, would be left entirely with us. They confirmed that request in writing. A short time later the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce likewise suggested the installation of a one-way traffic pattern."

The administration considered the requests, he said and began acting. He then told of the survey and its results. Meetings were held, he said, with Charles Murphy, the traffic expert and others interested, he said and it was determined that proposed changes would not work, and therefore were not made.

The letter took note of the poll by the Chamber of Commerce, and noted that another by uptown merchants "indicated a slight preference for having North Front street and Clinton avenue returned to two-way."

Cards and letters were received from those for and against, and many said it is a pleasure to come to Kingston now "because of the ease with which one can move about the uptown area."

THE LETTER NOTED that traffic was increasing "month by month" on narrow streets, and more will come when the bridge is opened in the fall.

"One-way streets," he said, "have been recognized all over the country as the safe and adequate answer for the movement of traffic."

Minor corrections are to be made, he noted, such as the installation of a traffic light at Wall and John and North Front and Green streets. The streets would be lined and properly marked so that the full advantage may be taken of the one-way pattern.

The 12th ward petition letter said that all types of vehicles pass in the residential area at unsafe speeds, and pedestrians in general, and children in particular, are in constant peril."

It asked "Why detour all this traffic away from North Front street, which was widened and improved specifically to accommodate such a heavy load of traffic. Within the next few weeks, it noted, traffic will be heavier, and the "residential streets are plainly inadequate to carry the load."

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 6 (AP)—Stock prices were narrowly lower today in a quiet market.

Price changes either way in the early afternoon didn't go past a point very often, and then the change usually was due to individual corporate situations.

Trading was slow at a pace around 1,500,000 shares for the day. That compares with 1,650,000 shares traded yesterday.

Senate Confirms Seaton

Washington, June 6 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Fred A. Seaton to be secretary of the interior by unanimous vote. The action followed unanimous approval of the Nebraska publisher, cattle raiser and former senator by the Senate Interior Committee yesterday. Confirmation came within 10 minutes after the Senate convened today and after only a brief discussion.

Union's Bid Is Denied to Put Pickets Back

Justice Isadore Bookstein has denied an application made by counsel for the Chain Service Restaurant Luncheonette and Soda Fountain Employes Local 11, AFL-CIO, to vacate a temporary restraining order enjoining the Local from picketing Hot Shoppes, Inc., restaurants along the New York State Thruway.

In a statement released today by J. Willard Marriott, president of Hot Shoppes, Inc., he says a preliminary injunction would be granted "against picketing of Hot Shoppes restaurants on the Thruway by Local 11."

Prior to the announcement Justice Bookstein had signed a temporary restraining order which stopped all picketing yesterday. The union had demanded recognition and a contract, although allegedly it did not represent a majority of Hot Shoppes employes. The union had contended that picketing was merely "organizational."

On behalf of Hot Shoppes, Inc., its attorney, Godfrey P. Schmidt, denied that contention and argued that the picketing was for "unlawful purposes." It was intended to coerce employer into violation of state and federal laws by forcing recognition of a union not chosen by a majority of the workers. He also contended the picketing was a reprisal against the employer and for that reason inflicted because it sought to safeguard freedom of choice by employes harm without justification.

Marriott stated "Judge Bookstein agreed with these arguments, denied the union motion to vacate the temporary restrain order." A written decision will be handed down, enjoining the picketing.

President Marriott, of Hot Shoppes, Inc., stated, "We are pleased that the right of the employes to select their own representation was recognized in this decision."

Some Vote Adlai Here

Primary Day vote was light locally and from early returns being received today at the Ulster County Board of Elections there were no contests. There was an indication that in some districts enrolled Democrats favored the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson when "write-in" of names for delegates to the national convention appeared. Clerks at the office were making a tally today as returns from the primary election came in slowly.

Washington, June 6 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury June 1: Balance, $6,101,021,547.86; deposits fiscal year July 1, $65,089,552,022.30; withdrawals fiscal year, $65,448,507,598.78; total debt, (x) $276,755,005,335.27; gold assets, $21,771,443,486.14; (x) — includes $465,364,812.55 debt not subject to statutory limit.

JCC Will Hold Annual Meeting

Membership of the Jewish Community Center of Kingston will hold its annual meeting tonight at the 265 Wall street building. The meeting will be called to order by outgoing president David Kline.

The planned agenda includes committee reports of all the standing committees for the past year, as well as a look to the future in the Nursery School, Day Camp and youth and teen activity groups. Goals for the future will be outlined by the Center Director, Sol J. Silverman.

Nominating Committees report will include the slate of officers and board members for the coming year. All members of the Center are eligible to vote at the annual meeting.

A special report will be rendered by the Day Camp site committee and the selection of a camp site will be acted upon by the membership.

Refreshments for the meeting will be served by a group of Center Women, headed by Miss Sadie Lutzin and Mrs. Marvin Baron, Harry Speigel, Sol Silverman and Sidney Halpern.

Members are reminded that the business of the annual meeting has been postponed from the April 8 date which snowed out the meeting.

Parents interested in the Center youth program, Day Camp, and/or Nursery School are invited to attend the meeting and participate in the discussion.

Weather Outlook Good

(By The Associated Press)

Rain fell in a few areas and it was cool in the northwest, but pleasant June weather was the outlook for most of the nation today. The colder air from the northwest moved southward into the Central Rockies and temperatures dropped from 5 to 15 degrees in most areas. However, they were as much as 27 degrees lower in Central and eastern Montana as compared to readings 24 hours earlier. Freezing weather was reported in some higher elevations.

Reparation Mass Will Be Offered At Auriesville

The annual Mass of Reparation to Christ for personal sin and the sins of the world will be celebrated Friday, June 8 at 8 p. m. at the Auriesville Shrine. A candlelight procession will precede the Mass at 7:30 p. m.

In making known the great devotion to His Sacred Heart, Christ made three requests. Our Saviour asked that a picture of His Sacred Heart be exposed for public veneration to move the hearts of men to love Him. He promised to lavish His blessings on all those who would comply with this request.

Our Lord also said that He would bestow extraordinary graces on all those who would receive Holy Communion on the first Friday of nine successive months in honor of His divine Heart. This devotion of the nine first Fridays has spread over almost the whole Catholic World.

Another request of our Saviour was that the first Friday after the octave of Corpus Christi be celebrated as a day in honor of His divine Heart. He asked that all those devoted to Him receive Holy Communion on that day in His honor and make reparation by ardent and reverent prayer for all the insults He receives while exposed in the Blessed Sacrament on our altars.

Fulfilling our Lord's wish, the Church has established the Feast of the Sacred Heart throughout the world. It is everywhere celebrated with special devotions of reparation.

Fifteen priests will be in the Coliseum at Auriesville to hear confessions beginning at 6:15 p. m.

Last year, 4,000 persons attended the evening Mass of Reparation at the Shrine. 939 people went to confession and received Holy Communion on that beautiful June evening at the place where the Martyrs gave their very lives to Christ in reparation in the early days of New York over 300 years ago. Pilgrims from as fas as Syracuse, Oneonta and Poughkeepsie came to the Shrine on the Feast of the Sacred Heart last year.

— that's what it is!

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow*!

IT TAKES a new word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick — with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time — with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflow can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflow's newest marvel. It's something the engineers call "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure — you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

So why not come in and see — and feel — the difference they make? You'll soon know why owners find it's the best Buick yet — and the best buy yet, by far.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Delores Campanella Is Wed in Saugerties

On Saturday, June 2, Miss Delores Jean Campanella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Campanella, Saugerties-Woodstock road, was wed to James W. McCormick, son of Mrs. Ann McCormick, Washington avenue, Saugerties, and the late James W. McCormick, before a nuptial Mass in St. Mary's Church, Saugerties. The Rev. John Gallagher, assistant pastor of the church, officiated. Mrs. William C. Plimley was at the organ.

The bride, given in marrige by her father, wore a gown of embroidered tulle, styled with an Empire bodice, short sleeves with matching gauntlets and an Italian neckline. Her bouffant skirt was floor length and terminated in a brush train. Her bridal cap of shirred tulle embroidered in seed pearls secured a French illusion fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley on an open prayer-book.

Mrs. Gloria Sdeo, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a gown of nile green taffeta fashioned with a molded bodice, short sleeves and a portrait neckline. Her bouffant skirt was waltz length and she wore a matching chignon hat trimmed with lilies of the valley. Her flowers were a nosegay of white carnations surrounded by pink carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ann Cragan of Kingston, Miss Janet McConekey, Mrs. Esmond Swart and Miss Sarah Thornton all of Saugerties. All wore gowns styled identically as the matron of honor only in colors of nile green and petal pink. All carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Two flower girls, Miss Michelle Carroll and Miss Paula O'Bryon wore petal pink gowns of similar design.

Robert V. Smith of Noank, Conn., cousin to the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Raymond Wolven, Carl Peter, Esmond Swart and Joseph Maines. All, including the bridegroom and the father of the bride, were dressed in white jacket and midnight blue trousers with matching cummerbund.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige lace with blue accessories and a corsage of blue roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue taffeta dress with blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

More than 200 guests attended the reception at the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties. Music was provided by Joe Vigna's Quartet. Guests from New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Tacoma, Wash. also attended.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a powder blue suit with white and brown accessories and a white orchid. Their destination was not revealed. When they return they will reside on Washington avenue.

Mrs. McCormick a graduate of Saugerties High School is employed by the Saugerties Savings Bank. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Saugerties High School and has served with the U. S. Marines.

Sickler-Palen Church Nuptials Held; Reception for Guests Is Given at Alpine

On Sunday, May 27, at 2 p. m. at First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. William J. McVey officiated at the double ring wedding of Colleen Ruth Sickler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sickler of 30 Coffey Place and Robert Lewis Palen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Palen, 101 Hurley avenue.

At the organ was Miss Edna Merrihew and William J. McVey Jr., sang "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father. She wore a white gown of rose point lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, illusion neckline, stand-up lace collar and long tapered sleeves. Her bouffant skirt of lace over bridal satin terminated in a circular scalloped court train. Her veil of imported French illusion was gathered to a matching princess cap of iridescent sequins and pearls on lace.

Mrs. David Dowsland of 30 Coffey Place was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of nylon net fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant floor length skirt trimmed with lace ruffles falling from the waistline to the hem and a matching lace jacket and headpiece.

Bridesmaids included Genevieve Lester, Joan Parker, Irene Williams and Carol Lyons. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor attendant.

Leslie Gardiner, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl in a blue net over blue taffeta gown.

Jay Cacioppo of Flatbush road was the best man. Serving as ushers were Frank Zamillo, John Stenson, William Smith and Percy Russell.

Howard Hotaling and Steven Hotaling were the child ringbearers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Alpine for approximately 110 guests.

Miss Sickler chose a light brown dress with beige accessories for her wedding trip to New York and Washington, D. C. When Mr. and Mrs. Palen return, they will reside at 19 Van Deusen street.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by the Grand Union on Albany avenue. He also serves with the 156th National Guard.

DAMAGE BY VISITING CHILD

A letter tells me: "The other evening we invited some friends of ours to dinner. They brought their small son along with them. After dinner while we were sitting around chatting, he went into the living room and broke one of my good lamps. I'm sure it was an accident, but just the same I felt that his parents should have offered to replace it, which they didn't do. What is your opinion?"

If it had been possible for them to replace it, they should have done so.

Wedding Invitations Incorrectly Worded

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just received my wedding invitations from the engravers. They read: "Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, request the pleasure of your company, at the marriage of . . . ," etc. An aunt of mine upon seeing them, said that they were incorrectly worded and that they should read "request the honour of your presence." This has rather upset me and I would like to know if she is right.

Answer: I'm sorry to say she is right. If the invitations had been to the reception only, then "request the pleasure of your company" would be right, but not for the church ceremony. However, since the invitations are ready to send out, I would suggest that you send them. I am sure that very few will notice that there is any error.

The Bride's Mother's Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married soon at a morning wedding. I had intended to wear a lace dress but my daughter tells me that lace is limited to late afternoon and evening wear and would not be correct at a morning hour. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: Ordinarily, a lace dress is not worn in the morning, but at a wedding and on the mother of the bride, it is entirely proper.

Thankless Job

Muskegon, Mich. (AP)—Muskegon Coast Guardsmen worked two weeks in snow, sleet and freezing rain to reshingle their old boathouse. Now they have been notified the boathouse will be torn down to make way for a new one.

Wellesley Alumnae Plan Annual Meeting

Mrs. William A. Van Benschoten, 77 Maiden lane, and Mrs. C. Laurence Stevens Jr., 249 Washington avenue, will be among nearly 1,000 Wellesley alumnae who plan to attend the 76th annual meeting of the Wellesley College Alumnae Association and the various class reunions scheduled for June 7-10 on the Wellesley campus. Ground breaking for the Jewett Arts Center, which will provide unexcelled facilities for art, music and theater, and celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Miss Caroline Hazard, Wellesley's fifth president, will be special events of Wellesley Weekend this year.

Musician and composer David Barnett, instructor in piano at Wellesley, will discuss "Unfamiliar Meanings in Familiar Music" at the first meeting Thursday.

In a series of "Back to Classes" visits Friday morning, alumnae will hear Miss Barbara P. McCarthy, Ellen A. Kendall professor of Greek; Miss M. Margaret Ball, Ralph Emerson Professor of Political Science; Henry F. Schwarz, Elizabeth Hodder Professor of History; and Miss Harriet B. Creighton, Ruby F. H. Farwell Professor of Botany and President of the Botanical Society of America.

Friday evening, in the Hay Outdoor Theater, Mrs. John Rood of Minneapolis, a member of the Wellesley Board of Trustees, will speak on "India—a First Visit, with an Artist."

Other events will include tea with Miss Margaret Clapp, president of Wellesley, on the lawn of the president's house, class suppers, and step-singing on the Chapel steps.

Flowers in the amorphophallus plan release a penetrating odor of rotting fish or meat.

Old Dutch Church Is Scene of Wedding For Rose Rammer and Kenneth DeWitt

Miss Rose M. Rammer of Rosendale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Panitz, Bronx, became the bride of Kenneth DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris DeWitt, Accord, Saturday, June 2, 2 p. m., at Old Dutch Church. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool performed the double ring ceremony.

Walter J. Kidd was at the organ and Edward Cherny sang several selections.

Palms and white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Louis Panitz. She wore a white gown fashioned with tiers of Chantilly lace and net over satin, a princess neckline and long pointed sleeves. A princess crown of seed pearls held her fingertip illusion veil. The bride carried a white Bible and orchid.

Maid of honor was Estelle Smith of Rosendale. She wore an orchid gown of tulle fashioned with an embroidered nylon peplum and strapless neckline. Her headpiece was a flowered tiara and it held a shoulder length veil. Miss Smith carried a nosegay of gladioli, carnations and daisies.

Bridesmaids included Norma Boyle of Rosendale and Frances Martin of Napanoch. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor, except in colors of yellow and turquoise. They carried bouquets of the same flowers.

Ernest DeWitt of Rosendale was the best man for his brother. Ushers included Matthew Rammer, brother of the bride and Eugene DeWitt, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Accord for approximately 50 people.

Miss Rammer is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1955 and is employed by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1952 and is employed by J. C. Strain and Company, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Lake George, the bride chose a blue sheath dress worn with a bolero jacket and white accessories.

The couple's future home will be in Kingston.

Airman and Wife Win $64,000 Prize

New York, June 6 (AP) — A young air force captain and his wife each won $32,000 on a television quiz show last night by answering different questions on the same subject—The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes.

The couple was the first to try for separate prizes at the same time on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Question."

Capt. and Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke of Fairborn, Ohio, thus could take home a total of $128,000 if they try to double their winnings on next Tuesday's show.

Each was given a seven-part question, listing names or aliases of characters in A. Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories. They correctly gave the titles of the stories and other names for the characters.

Spring Concert Held At Saugerties School

More than 140 pupils participated in the annual spring concert held at the Saugerties Central School last Friday evening.

Highlights of the program included, "He," by the Girls Sextet and Boys Double Quartet, selections by the String Orchestra, composed of area grade school children under the direction of Miss Mildred Brady.

The Grade Choir and Seventh Grade Choir also participated.

"Quality Is Remembered Long After Price Is Forgotten"

Cragsmoor Playhouse Audiences Will See Many TV Faces During This Season

Casting for the Cragsmoor Playhouse, which opens June 27, Cragsmoor, has now been completed, according to Elaine Perry and Irl Mowery, managers. In addition to appearing on Broadway, many of the players have been seen consistently on television screens throughout the country.

Gaines Kincaid, young leading man, will be remembered for his roles on "Studio One," "Three Steps to Heaven," "Captain Video," "Love Story," "Armstrong's Circle Theater," "Appointment with Adventure." In addition he has appeared on the stage with Eva Gabor, Pat O'Brien, Lee Bowman, Chester Morris, Jane Pickens and other greats of the stage and screen.

Engaged as ingenue for the Cragsmoor Playhouse, lovely Lois McKim has been seen in appearances with Snooky Lanson and Eileen Barton on "Duquesne Showtime," "Bookland Playhouse," "Little Women" and "Hans Brinker" for the Ford Foundation, and in 104 programs of "Happy's Birthday" for children.

Gaylord Mason, who will appear in many of the Cragsmoor Playhouse programs, has appeared on all major TV and radio networks. On the stage he has played opposite Fredric March, Helen Hayes and Cornelia Otis Skinner among others.

During the past season alone, Alex Reed, who will play character roles at Cragsmoor, has appeared eight times on various television programs.

William Gregory, who will also play leading roles, has been seen on television emanating from New York, Cleveland and Erie, Pa. Audiences will remember him for his role in the Hitchcock film, "The Wrong Man."

One of the most important assignments of Miss Blanche Cholet, another Cragsmoor Playhouse actress, was the role of Lincoln's step-mother in the Omnibus portrayal of Lincoln's life. This program has been repeated for three successive years by popular demand. Last year Miss Cholet was a member of the cast of "Skin of Our Teeth" which was presented in Paris as part of the "Salute to France." Helen Hayes and Mary Martin were the principals in this production.

Actress, producer, theatrical manager and co-partner with Irl Mowery in the Cragsmoor Playhouse, Miss Elaine Perry is the daughter of Antoinette Perry, who was one of the foremost women directors in New York. Miss Perry was first seen on television in 1940 and has appeared on this medium consistently since then.

The Cragsmoor Playhouse opens June 27 with "Champagne Complex."

Smart Birds

Geary, Okla. (AP) — Ammon Owen is convinced the early bird gets the worm because he is smarter. While plowing his field, he noticed a flock of inland gulls following him and flying down and bottling up the worms from the turned furrows. The next morning, when he got back to the field the gulls flew in to wait for him to do his plowing.

New Diet Fad Permits Eating of Starches, Fats and Sweets; Theory Is Revolutionary

BY DOROTHY ROE
(The Associated Press)

Next time you see a lady stuffing herself on bread, butter and strawberry jam, don't chide her. She may be trying out the latest reducing diet—one worked out by no less an august organization than the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

This delightful diet, which allows unlimited quantities of sugar, butter, jams, jellies and other goodies, is described happily by Roy DeGroot in a new book, "How I Reduced with the New Rockefeller Diet." DeGroot, worried about his increasing girth, tells how he managed to enroll at the institute, and how he lost 45 pounds in his first 90 days on the diet—all without feeling hungry.

This is a diet that should make life rosy for those sweet-tooth guys and gals who can't resist that gooey breakfast bun or that box of chocolates.

The idea, it seems, is that if you are allowed to eat your fill of all those starches and sweets, eventually you won't want them any more. Your appetite will dwindle, and with it your avoirdupois.

This last diet theory completes the full circle, I believe. I have been noting the successive diet fads that have swept the country in recent years, and we've had practically everything else but this.

There was the era, you may remember, when women sat around in high-priced restaurants munching on heaping servings of rabbit food—shredded carrots, cabbage, lettuce and such, appropriately called the hay diet.

There was a period when thousands of women all over the country subsisted on bananas and skim milk, a combination supposed to contain all essential nutrients.

There was the Hollywood lamb chop and pineapple diet, which still has many fond supporters.

There was the high-protein diet, still the most generally practiced, in which you go heavy on steak, eggs and other lean meats, and go easy on starches and sweets.

There was the popular Du Pont diet, said to have been worked out to keep high-priced executives in trim, which depended mainly on eggs, grapefruit and tomatoes, with a few slabs of steak now and then.

And there was the diet which said you must eat a lot of fat meat at every meal. This too, found a wide following.

There have been diets consisting principally of raw vegetables and diets consisting mainly of lean meats, and fruit diets and milk diets, but this is the first time, to my knowledge, anybody has stated you can get thin by eating starches, fats and sweets.

It's a wonderful world, after all, when there's a diet to suit every man's taste, and to give everybody something to talk about after the subject of the weather is exhausted.

475 Boy Scouts Attend Camporee

More than 475 Boy Scouts and Explorers, including 96 leaders representing 28 troops and eight Explorer posts, attended the annual spring Camporee held last weekend by Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the council's Camp Tri-Mount near East Jewett.

Despite rainy weather the "challenge events" program was conducted Saturday together with the Explorer "lost pilot" event.

The Health and Safety committee under the direction of George Sheldon, chairman, conducted inspections of each unit during the three-day encampment. Inspection scores were tabulated together with the scores of various events in determining the winners.

TROOP 6 of the First Baptist Church, Kingston and Troop 12 of the First Dutch Church, Kingston tied for first place among the troops with total score of 109 points each. Tied for second place were Troop 63, American Legion Post, Ashokan and Troop 11, St. James Methodist Church, Kingston, with scores of 101 points each. Third place honors went to Troop 22, VFW, Kerhonkson. Winning the Explorer "lost pilot" event was Explorer Post 78, American Legion, New Paltz. Because of rain the Saturday evening campfire was cancelled and the closing ceremony was cancelled on Sunday afternoon. The rest of the program was carried out throughout the weekend in spite of the heavy rainfall and high winds.

The council commissioner, Sherwood Lasher, directed the program with the assistance of the following members of the staff: Edward Safford, Gordon A. Craig, Jr., Joseph Shapiro and Thomas Orr, all of the Kingston Staff; Ray C. Reifeiss, Norman Cooper, Anton Geerts and Ralph Bigelow all of the northern district staff; Malcolm Black of the western district. Explorer Post 12 of the First Dutch Church, Kingston, under the direction of Explorer advisor, Richard Stewart, manned the traffic control stations at each end of the road.

Knights Templar Will Hold 143rd Conclave June 8-9

The 143rd annual conclave of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of the State of New York, will convene in Rochester June 8 and 9. The Seneca Hotel, Clinton avenue South, will be the headquarters and sessions will be held at the Masonic Temple, Main street East.

Friday will be devoted to registration, grand conclave opening, recess for lunch at noon, followed by ladies' luncheon in Hotel Seneca ballroom at 1 p. m. Grand Commandery then reconvenes until 6 p. m. when comes the Grand Commander's dinner for invited guests, followed at 8:30 p. m. by the reception for grand commander Hotel Seneca ballroom for all officers, Sir Knights and their ladies.

Saturday the grand commandery reconvenes and closes at noon. At 2:30 p. m. the colorful and impressive parade will be held from Masonic Temple to Ashbury First Methodist Church, where they attend a vesper service at 3:30 p. m.

Saturday night is the big night of the conclave, starting at 7 o'clock at the New York State Armory with the grand banquet and grand march followed by the installation ceremonies of the newly elected officers.

Rondout Commandery will be represetned by Commander Raymond H. Parsells and Generalissimo Chester H. Bonesteel of Saugerties, with probably many other Sir Knights from Kingston and Saugerties, Catskill, Ellenville and Margaretville.

One out of seven U. S. workers is rated as skilled.

Igniters Will Hold Meeting Tonight

The Kingston Igniters, local hot-rod group, will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the courtroom at city hall.

Gus Lovy, president, reported that local Igniter representatives were in Poughkeepsie last week to assist in the organization of a safety campaign for the youngsters in that area.

Approximately 25 teen-agers were present. They elected officers and discussed plans for the future. The precise nature of the organization has not been settled yet and no name selected, Mr. Lovy said.

Boy Scout News Troop 3 Charter Review Is Held

On Sunday night Troop 3 held its annual charter review and parents night at St. Joseph's Church following an investiture service.

Following an opening flag ceremony in which both Boy Scouts of Troop 3 and Cub Scouts of Pack 13 took part, Scoutmaster William Sill introduced Edward Gardner as the new troop committee chairman and William Leehive, also a committeman, welcomed the Scouts and their parents.

THEN FOLLOWED the recognition of ranks earned by the Scouts since April 30, 1955. The boys presented miniature pins to their mothers. Committeeman Nicholas Reis, Jr., recognized the following boys who became tenderfoot Scouts during the past year: Robert Fenton, Thomas Gardner, James Godwin, Robert Geuss, Dennis Herwig, Henry Langley, Arthur Rifenbary, Robert Rundel and John Schwalbach.

Second class Scouts presented by Committeeman John Machione were Joseph Alexy, John Bruck, Albert Gruner, Paul Hyatt, Anthony McCardle, James Rundel and Frank Storm.

Robert Cloonan and Paul Colburn were recognized as first class Scouts by Committeeman Nicholas Reis, Sr.

Willard Titus, committeeman, presented the names of the following Scouts who had attained the rank of Star Scout during the past year: Robert Aprea, John DiMuccio, Richard Guess, Robert Godfrey, Ronald Setera and John Zaccheo.

The following Life rank Scouts were recognized by Dr. C. I. Angstrom, committeeman: Andrew Angstrom, Jon Angstrom, Fred Barthel, Francis Browne, John Cloonan, Richard DiMuccio, John Secreto and Richard Barthel.

John Whitaker, who earned the coveted Eagle Scout rank, was congratulated by Father Glancy.

Near East Curry Sauce Adds New Zest to Chicken

SWEET PICKLE mix added to curry sauce brings a new taste treat with Near East overtones to chicken.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Eastern cookery is not a mystery. This recipe for Sesame Chicken with piquant curry sauce will prove that culinary point. Eleanor Foote, who works for the U. S. government, traveling to many parts of the world, gave us the recipe. She has revised the recipe because some ingredients are not available here.

Sesame Chicken With Piquant Curry Sauce (Makes 4 servings)

One-half cup all-purpose flour, 2 tablespoons sesame seeds, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 2½-pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces; 1 egg, beaten; 2 tablespoons salad oil, 1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of chicken soup, 1/3 cup milk, 1¼ teaspoons curry powder, ½ cup coarsely chopped sweet mixed pickles.

Combine flour, sesame seeds, salt and pepper; mix well. Dip chicken in egg, coat with flour mixture. Cook in oil until lightly browned on all sides. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour over chicken. Cover and cook over low heat until chicken is tender, about 30 minutes.

Pickle-Apple Relish (Makes 3 cups relish)

One cup chopped dill pickles, 2 medium-sized apples, finely chopped; 1 large onion, finely chopped; 1 4-ounce can pimentos, drained and chopped; ½ teaspoon celery seed, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons water, 3 tablespoons vinegar.

Combine pickles, apples, onion, pimentos, celery seed, mustard, horseradish and salt; mix well. Combine remaining ingredients; heat to boiling point. Pour over pickle mixture; mix well. Chill.

Cooking Demonstration

An electrical cooking demonstration will be sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bloomington Fire Department on Thursday at 8 p. m. Miss Dorothy Rhodes of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation will demonstrate the modern, step-saving usage of electrical cooking. All members of the auxiliary are urged to attend and bring five guests.

Eat Daffodil Farm Bread
"Higher Protein To Calorie Ratio" FOR:

TRIM LEAN FLESH

To exercise weight control—control the appetite control center of your brain. Eat a protein-containing food 30 to 60 minutes before a meal to maintain the blood sugar level high enough—to normally appease your appetite control center. Reduce your craving for food so you eat less.

RICH RED BLOOD

Blood cells are protein structures. Daffodil Farm Bread is also enriched with iron . . . another important part of your blood.
Safe to say, protein is the most important food for the body as all cells are essentially protein in structure.

STRONG BONES AND TEETH

75% of muscle structure (dry) is protein. Pound for pound, the growing child requires twice the protein of an adult.
Bones and teeth growth is dependent upon protein. To make the "mould" into which Nature puts the minerals that make bones hard.
The "growing ends" of the long bones which determine height must have adequate protein or growth may be retarded.

Continental Baking Company, Inc.

Contains About 26% Less Calories To Complete Protein Than The Average Of Whole Wheat Bread Or Ordinary White Breads Tested

A Remarkable New Advance In Nutrition Made Possible By The New Miracle Protein "Booster" From Milk

Sad but true—there is no "magic pill" to keep vitality up in your family.
But you can provide good nutrition in a well-balanced diet. Such as:
Meat, milk, fish, eggs and high-protein ratio bread . . . energy foods like potatoes and beans . . . protective foods like green-leafed and yellow vegetables, oranges and tomatoes.
All these promote good health and vitality. And, of course, foods lower in calories help keep figures trim.

A White Bread Better Than Whole Wheat

No one questions the health advantages of whole wheat bread. But few relish the taste.
Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread is a great nutritional advance because four slices of "higher protein to calorie ratio" Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread equal five slices of the average of eleven whole wheat breads tested in complete protein content!
A truly remarkable development made possible by the miracle milk protein "booster"—lactalbumin.

Tastes Better—Toasts Better

And Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread gives you more vitamins and minerals. (See chart.)
And—Daffodil Farm Bread contains about 26% less calories to complete protein than the average of whole wheat bread or ordinary white breads tested. Best of all, Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread tastes so good!
And for toasting, it is simply wonderful!
To keep vitality up . . . you'll do better with foods like "higher protein to calorie ratio" Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread.
Get it at your grocer's today. Note how firm the loaf is . . . filled with goodness instead of air! And fresh as a daisy! Try Daffodil Farm Enriched Bread today. You'll be glad you did.

Denver Home Economist Approves Daffodil Farm Bread

"Daffodil Farm Bread originally interested me because of its high protein food value. After using it, however, I became attached to it because of its wonderful quality and flavor. It does cost more, but is certainly worth more. I feel the milk and all-butter shortening make it taste better and toast better."
Mrs. Steven Kilpatrick
Director, Denver Dairy Council

WHY 4 SLICES OF DAFFODIL FARM BREAD ARE EQUAL IN PROTEIN FOR HEALTH TO 5 SLICES OF WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

COMPLETE PROTEIN VALUES
DAFFODIL FARM BREAD 79%
100% WHOLE WHEAT BREAD 53%

(Figures are per cent distribution of complete protein as limited by lysine [complete protein contains 5.3 g. of lysine per 100 g. protein] of equal weights of Daffodil Farm Bread and the average of eleven Whole Wheat Breads tested; lysine values based on microbiological assays by Food Research Laboratories.)

Slice for slice, compared with 100% Whole Wheat Bread, Daffodil Farm Bread gives the following relative values:

Calcium	+121%
Vitamin B_1	+7%
Vitamin B_2	+116%
Niacin	+44%
Iron	−7%

(Above valuations based on one analysis following standard laboratory procedures from our own laboratories.)

Stevenson Takes Coast Primary by Landslide Margin

San Francisco, June 6 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson swept to a thunderous California victory today that all but knocked Sen. Estes Kefauver out of the running for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson took California's 68 Democratic convention votes away from Kefauver by what approached a landslide margin and forged so far ahead of his rivals that he looked like the man to beat for his party's nomination. He was getting 62 per cent of the Democratic vote in California.

INCLUDING yesterday's California, Montana and South Dakota primaries, Stevenson has 259½ Democratic convention delegates and Kefauver 166. Other candidates have 226 total and 370½ are uncommitted publicly.

While this left Stevenson substantially short of the 696½ nominating figure, the impetus of his California victory seemed likely to win him support from previously undecided delegates and others still to be chosen.

DESPITE HIS California showing, the former Illinois governor apparently failed to match in his own ballot total the count rolled up by an unopposed 70-vote delegate slate backing President Eisenhower for the GOP nomination.

But in their bitterly-fought primary yesterday the combined vote Democrats gave Stevenson and Kefauver topped substantially the ballots cast in the unexciting GOP contest. Registered Democrats outnumber Republicans by 782,000 in the state, which Eisenhower won from Stevenson by 700,000 in 1952.

WITH 15,366 of 24,160 precincts counted, the Democratic contest stood: Stevenson 592,409, Kefauver 359,535.

The Republican count from 13,637 precincts, fewer than tabulated in the Democratic contest—gave Eisenhower 585,986. On this basis Eisenhower was certain to top Stevenson.

Conceding defeat early today, Kefauver said he will continue campaigning for the Democratic nomination. He said he will not accept a vice presidential place on the ticket—an offer not likely to come to him if Stevenson wins the top spot.

KEFAUVER SAID in a congratulatory telegram to Stevenson he and his supporters will do "everything possible for the election of Democratic candidates in the general election and to bring California back into the Democratic fold in November." The Tennessee senator told reporters he had "no excuses, no regrets and no alibis" for his defeat.

Drownings Are Cited As Delaying Recruits

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Marine officers attribute a sharp April drop in enlistments chiefly to raised corps standards but acknowledge that another factor may be the drownings of six recruits on a forced night march.

The Marine Corps was disclosed yesterday to have signed up in April 1,321 recruits—a figure nearly two-thirds less than the average for the six preceding months.

Corps spokesmen said that while the drownings may be responsible "to some degree," other considerations are (a) higher standards for new recruits and (b) a traditional low recruiting rate in April.

More than a week before the tragedy at Parris Island, S. C., the corps had announced plans to reduce from 26 to 18 per cent the number it would accept from among recruit candidates who fall in the lowest mental and physical category.

Grill Held Up

New York, June 6 (AP)—Bert Rose, of 3765 Lynn Lane, Wantagh, Long Island, was held up today in his bar and grill at 715 E. 138th street, the Bronx, by a gunman who escaped with $103. Rose told police he was about to close the bar about 3:30 a. m. when the Negro robber entered, pulled a pistol and forced him to hand over the money from the cash register.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Otte and daughters, Helen and Mary, of Durham, Conn., spent the weekend with the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Westlake Coons.

Mrs. Lawrence Craft and mother, Mrs. Anna Stangel and Mrs. Luella Porter attended the funeral of Mrs. Margaret Woodward at Poughkeepsie Saturday. Mrs. Woodward was formerly Margaret Eisenhardt of Ellenville.

Mrs. Jewell Wiesen has returned home from an extended tour of Israel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McConnel and family, of Roslyn, Pa., and Joe Connor, of Philadelphia, Pa., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McConnell.

The Rev. Dorr E. Fritts was at Albany attending a meeting of the United Lutheran Synod, of New York and New England. Mrs. Fritts attended on Wednesday and Thursday.

A housewarming surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. John Gorton, Lincoln street, in their new 46-foot trailer Friday evening by their neighbors and friends. Many gifts and well wishes made the party a success.

Considerate Thief

Nogales, Mexico (AP)—Hugo W. Miller reported that even the pickpockets were in a good mood during a festival at this town on the U. S. border. A thief stole his wallet, but, reported Miller: "The pickpocket was considerate. He even buttoned my pocket after lifting my purse."

Anastasia Gives Books to Bradley

New York, June 6 (AP)—Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia, Brooklyn dock boss who has been feuding with President William V. Bradley of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (IND.), gave in yesterday and turned over the books of a Brooklyn local to the union head.

Bradley had demanded the books after Anastasia merged Local 1816 with his own big Local 1814 last April.

About 900 Brooklyn longshoremen are members of Local 1816. The merger was approved by a vote of 47 to 39 at a poorly attended meeting.

Bradley called for the books and also ordered a secret ballot among Local 1816's members to determine whether they favored consolidation with Anastasia's local.

Anastasia at first refused to turn over the books. But yesterday he said he agreed to surrender them to restore union harmony.

Bradley said he would hold a mass meeting of Local 1816 "in the near future" for the secret ballot.

More for Research

Washington, June 6 (AP)—The Senate added 58 million dollars yesterday to the 126½ millions President Eisenhower had asked for continued research on cancer, heart disease, mental ills, arthritis and other diseases. It did so in passing by voice vote a $2,372,523,281 money bill to finance the Welfare and Labor Departments in the bookkeeping year starting July 1. The measure now goes to conference with the House, which had voted nine millions more than Eisenhower asked for research by the National Institutes of Health. There are other differences between the two versions which also must be resolved.

Nadler Motors Check Eagles, 5-1, on Bob Maines' 3-Hitter

The golfer who wins the sixth annual Father Herdegen Memorial tournament will have to beat George Hughes of Twaalfskill.

Like Ben Hogan dominated the U. S. Open for so many years, so has the sorrel-thatched Sweet Swinger the county championship.

Hughes captured the first tournament (1951) with a 54-hole score of 208, which included a course record-tying 63 at Woodstock Country Club. He was second with 306 to Clarence "Dubby" Raichle's 72-hole 302 at Wiltwyck the next year.

Bill Van Aken nosed out Hughes by a single stroke, 287-288, in the 1953 tourney. A year later George captured his second title with a 286 for 72 holes. In 1955, Van Aken picked up his second crown with 213 for 54 holes.

Four of the area's big name golfers are bracketed on top in the five-year ratings of the highly exacting Herdegen Memorial. Amateur golfers rarely compete in medal tournaments and the Herdegen is 72 holes of severe championship test for the play for fun guys. Hughes' five-year stroke aggregate is 1312. Alvin Boice is second with 1324. Bill Van Aken has 1341 and Dubby Raichle 1352.

Anyway you look at it, Mr. Hughes is Mr. Hogan in this tournament.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Wiggie DeLisio and family have arrived in Woodstock from their winter home at St. Petersburg. Mrs. DeLisio, club champion at WCC, played brilliantly on the Florida courses. . . . If Ernie Schirmer is still interested in those 45-hole marathons, we have just the man to accommodate him. Gentleman by the name of Frank Barger, an Electrol employe playing out of Woodstock CC. Mr. Barger regards an 18-hole trek as just a warmup. . . . Leon Randall around town over the weekend, hoping he can get to the county for the Herdegen Memorial. . . . Ted Jarvis' handicap about to undergo surgery by the Handicap Committee at WCC. . . . Sam Snead, a four time winner, heads the 15th annual Palm Beach round robin golf tournament which gets under way at Wykagyl Country Club, New Rochelle, on Thursday. Field includes Doug Ford, 1955 PGA champion; Peter Thomson, British Open champion; Jack Burke, Masters champion; Lloyd Mangrum, Henry Cotton, the great British master; Mike Souchak and others. In the delightful Round Robin scoring system, the players get a point for each strike they beat the other foursome members in a round. Minus points are given on the same basis. Thus, if A scores 70, B 71, C 72 and D 73, A gains a total of 6 points from three rivals. B gets 2 points, having won 3 and lost 1. C will be minus 2 and D minus 6. Do you follow us or would you rather have vanilla?

Saturday is National Golf Day around the country. For payment of one dollar, golfers will be able to compete against Jack Fleck, United States Open champion and Fay Crocker, women's Open champion, both of whom will be playing at the Oak Hill Country Club, Rochester, N. Y. The Open will start there on June 14. Club golfers receive full handicaps against the champions. If their net scores "beat" the champs they will receive medals. The $1 entry fee goes to the National Golf Club, a non-profit organization that in the past four years has given a total of $478,738.33 to charity. The Professional Golfers Association is sole sponsor of the event this year. Its members will aid in conducting play at their clubs on Saturday. . . . The Twaalfskill Club has embellished its attractive cocktail lounge with golf pictures of Twaalfskill vintage dating back to the turn of the century.

Ben Hogan says that anyone without physical impairment can shoot in the 70s by developing a swing that repeats. Hogan lists as the five fundamentals that develop that swing: 1. grip (constant union); 2. posture (back straight, knees flexed); 3. arms (left arm firm, right arm loose); 4. swing (left arm straight for largest arc); and 5. follow-through (body follows swing). Ben also claims that "there is one thing that all good golfers do and all average or poor golfers do not do. At impact all good golfers have their wrists leading in a convex position, while others have their wrists concave.

It's nice to have Ben's ideas on a subject he knows as well as anybody in the world. But when you're sick, you consult a qualified physician. And when your golf swing is sick, you see your club professional for the cure. Don't try self-medication on a golf course. It's fatal.

Suggs Ready For Triangle

Virginia Beach, Va., June 6 (AP)—Defending Champion Louise Suggs wasn't optimistic but quickly added she wasn't pessimistic today as play began in the fourth annual $12,000 (Triangle) Round Robin golf tournament.

The professional star from Sea Island, Ga., said any one of the field of 16 can win his "plus and minus" competition and "I'm playing golf to make a living—just like all the other girls in this business."

Miss Suggs played the 6,065-yard, par 36-35—71 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course for the first time in her long career yesterday.

"I JUST practiced and kept no no score," she said. "When I hit a poor shot, I hit another ball. This is a good course for women. It's long in spots, but there are some short holes which give us a chance for some birdies if we're accurate."

Miss Suggs, victor so far this year in the Havana Open and the Titleholders at Augusta, Ga., singled out Patty Berg, Betty Jameson, Betsy Rawls, 21-year-old Micky Wright and Marlene Bauer Hagge as the ones likely to cause the most trouble in this series of five four-ball matches.

Wrens defeated the Hawks, 7 to 4, in the Jaycee Little League in a game featured by unusual activity at home plate.

Harold Hughes tagged four would-be Hawk scorers at the plate and that was the story of the ball game.

John Falvey of the Hawks allowed 4 hits and struck out 13. Jerry Robinson of the winners yielded three safeties and fanned 12. He also stroked two singles. Bill Oskay of the Hawks hit a double.

Ex-KHS Lefty Gives 3 Hits, Strikes Out 11

One Bad Inning Ruins Kithcart

Nadler Motors launched its 1956 City Baseball League campaign with a nifty 5-1 decision over the Kingston Eagles, yesterday at the Athletic Field.

Southpaw Bob Maines, former Kingston High School ace, limited the all-Negro nine to three hits and struck out 11 to be in command all the way.

His rival, George Kitchcart, yielding only four hits, deserved a better fate. A streak of wildness on his own part and a collapsing Eagle defense accounted for all the Nadler tallies in the fifth.

KITCHCART walked three men in that frame, Johnny Godwin inserted a single and errors by Eddie Kithcart and B. Miller contributed to his difficulties.

Maines lost his shutout in the third. The official report did not list details of the lone Eagle tally. George Kitchcart cracked a triple in that round and it presumably led to the run.

Eddie Kithcart and Bob Neal accounted for the Eagle safeties.

GODWIN stroked two singles off Kithcart to lead the Motormen. Maines and Bill DuBois were credited with the other safeties.

Saugerties Whiz Kids, with Joe Benjamin Jr. on the mound, make their league debut this evening against another new entry, the Ellenville club, at 6:15 p. m.

Sam Snead's Game Is, Well.... Picks Peter Thomson in Open

New York, June 6 (AP)—Sam Snead, who has blown a half-dozen chances to win the National Open Golf championship, has a word to describe his prospect in the annual tournament next week:

"Stinking."

"If I could get my touch on the greens the way I've done the times (three) I've won the Masters and some other tournaments, I'd figure my odds pretty good," the rhythm man from Virginia said. "But I'm stinking."

Sam checked into town today for defense of his Round Robin championship at Wykagyl in nearby Westchester county, starting Thursday. After Sunday's final rounds, he sets off for Rochester, N. Y., and the 56th Annual Open June 14-16.

SNEAD SAID his own personal choice for the Open title is 26-year-old Peter Thomson of Australia.

"Pete has everything it takes to win the Open," he added. "He hits a long, straight ball. He's a heck of a putter. And he's a solid boy, a good competitor.

"The trouble is until he won at Dallas this week he'd never been able to win one of our tournaments. I think he was getting a sort of complex. But now that he has finally won, it may be just the boost he needs."

Thomson has won the British Open crown the last two years. But his success on the United States circuit has been short of his recognized ability. Most of his contemporaries rate him with the best of the present day golfers but say he "matured late."

Thomson beat Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Gene Littler in a sudden death playoff Monday to win the Texas International Tournament at Dallas.

Yankees and Giants have won their opening games in the American Little League's 1956 season.

Vince Smedes of the Electrol Giants set a strikeout record that will stand some beating when he whiffed 16 of the 156th Field Artillery Red Sox in Monday's opener attended by 350 persons.

He allowed five hits and gained the 6-5 decision over Ed Corcoran and Mike Ferraro, who between them allowed only four hits and struck out eight, seven by Ferraro.

Frank Fay of the Lions Club Yankees granted Doc Smith's Dodgers six hits and fanned 10. Len Bovee and Tom Cione allowed five Yankee hits.

One of the Dodger hits off Fay was a home run over the centerfield fence by Ronnie Thomas in the fourth inning. Yankees took advantage of 12 walks issued by Bovee and Cione.

Joe Van Kueren, Joe Bush and Tony Cione belted doubles. Bovee and Cione each had two hits.

Mike Ferraro cracked a double and single for the Red Sox and Gerald Hawkins had two singletons for the Giants. Tony Erena and Ed Corcoran slapped doubles.

Basilio-Felix Bout Reset for June 18

Troy, Ohio, June 6 (AP)—The scheduled Carmen Basilio-Felix Machado middleweight bout has been postponed from this Saturday to June 18 because the arena here is too small.

Matchmaker Jack Laken said he is looking for a place to hold an anticipated crowd of 15,000 to 25,000. Hobart Arena, the original site, holds only 6,500. Crosley Field in Cincinnati and the Speedway in Dayton are being considered, he said.

Timid Tigers Turn Bengals And Yankees Keep Slipping

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's been a long haul, but Detroit's not-so-timid Tigers have the American League by the tail at the moment, sprinting along on a seven-game winning streak.

Three weeks ago Manager Bucky Harris had a last place club on his hands. Now he's sitting pretty, still 5½ games out of the lead, but up in the first division and only a skip and a jump out of third.

Every one of the Tigers has put his bat to work in the seven-game success story—longest in the majors this season—although Harvey Kuenn, batting .441 in that span, and Ray Boone, at .407, are the big guns.

Kuenn was 3-for-4 and Boone hammered home five runs with a homer, double and two singles in five trips last night as the Tigers outpowered Boston's Red Sox 14-11. Frank House, batting .571 on a part-time basis in Harris' platooning plans in the streak, muscled in with a three-run homer as Detroit swung for 17 hits and broke a fourth place deadlock with Boston while making it nine out of 10.

New York's first place lead dwindled to 3½ games, meanwhile, as Kansas City handed the Yankees—who made five errors—their fourth straight defeat 7-4. The Yanks lost despite homers by Yogi Berra, Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle, who hit his 21st. Cleveland, with Bob Lemon winning his seventh, took over second by belting Baltimore 8-3 as Chicago's White Sox slipped to third with a 3-1 loss at Washington.

THINGS ARE much cozier in the National. Pittsburgh, despite a 7-3 defeat at Chicago, has a four-percentage-point hold on the lead over Cincinnati, which trounced Philadelphia 9-4. It's a virtual three-way tie for first, with St. Louis three points back of the Redlegs after beating New York 3-1 while the Brooklyn Dodgers tripped Milwaukee to fourth 6-1 on Roger Craig's two-hitter.

For all their thumping, the Tigers had a ninth-inning scare as the Red Sox scored six times before losing their 10th decision in the last 14. Don Buddin socked a three-run homer in the rally off reliefer Walt Masterson. Billy Klaus and Jackie Jensen also homered for the Sox, off starter Virgil Trucks, who won his second. Bob Porterfield was the loser.

The A's turned the Yank errors, three by second baseman Billy Martin, into four runs, icing it with three in the seventh before Lou Kretlow started to weaken. The veteran right-hander, now 2-7 lifetime vs. New York, gave just two hits until the eighth when Mantle, hitting against a defensive shift for the first time, belted a two-run homer—his only hit. Collins homered to lead off the ninth and little Bobby Shantz came on to fan Gil McDougald and Irv Noren and get Andy Carey on a tap to the mound. Johnny Kucks lost it.

LEMON, beaten only once in 10 decisions with Baltimore, scattered nine hits while the Indians smacked six doubles along with Earl Averill's two-run homer. Bobby Avila, Vic Wertz and Jim Busby also had two RBIs as Ray Moore lost his fourth.

The only Milwaukee hits off Craig, now 5-2, were a first inning homer by Ed Mathews and a single by Billy Bruton in the eighth. In between the young righthander retired 13 in a row while the fifth-place Brooklyns, only two games out of first, chased southpaw Warren Spahn with two in the second. Spahn, losing his fourth straight, hadn't started against the Dodgers since Sept. 2, 1953. Randy Jackson's three-run double put it away in the fourth off reliefer Dave Jolly.

WALLY POST drove in four runs while belting two homers and rookie Frank Robinson hit a solo homer as the Redlegs kept the pace. Joe Nuxhall went all the way for his second victory. Curt Simmons was the loser.

Wally Moon's two-run triple beat Jim Hearn and the Giants in the sixth as Williard Schmidt, winless since May 8, spun a five-hitter. Ken Boyer homered for the Cards' first run.

The Cubs walloped Bob Friend, who sought his 10th victory, for five runs with two out in the third as Warren Hacker, winning his first, shut out the Pirates until the ninth, when Frank Thomas homered with two on.

Archie Proclaims Moore New Heavyweight Champ

By JOHN FARROW

London, June 6 (AP)—Archie Moore today brushed aside all questions about another defense of his light heavyweight title and said:

"I'm the best heavyweight in the world—and that's the title I am after."

The cagey old fellow from San Diego, Calif., cleared one of the hurdles on the way to the crown vacated by Rocky Marciano with a 10th round TKO of Yolande Pompey of Trinidad in a light heavyweight title fight in London's Harringay Arena last night.

"WE HAD signed contracts for this fight in London so we had to go ahead with it," Moore said.

"Now I want that heavyweight title. I'm entitled to it. Marciano nominated me as his logical successor. Floyd Patterson and Tommy Jackson are fighting Friday. There's talk of a fight against the winner in September. I can't get home soon enough to sort it all out."

Patterson and Jackson hold no terrors for Moore who says he's 39, is reported to be 42, but who fights like a man of 30.

Charley Johnson, Moore's manager, said they planned to return to the United States in a day or two.

"MOORE WILL then take it easy and rest up awhile," he said. "Archie is the obvious man for the heavyweight title. Maybe we'll fight the winner of the Jackson-Patterson fight in September. That seems to be the way things are shaping. We shall see on our return to the states."

Johnston added that Moore would not think of relinquishing his lightheavy title until he has the heavyweight crown under his belt.

Moore let Pompey do most of the work in the early rounds and the Trinidad fighter was ahead on points at the end of the eighth.

Then came the ninth and Moore pounded Pompey with crushing rights and left hooks.

Boyd 8-5 Pick Over Savage

Chicago, June 6 (AP)—Bobby Boyd, second ranking middleweight contender in Ring Magazine's latest ratings, goes after his ninth straight victory tonight against the fighter who last defeated him, Milo Savage.

Te lanky Chicago Negro, who lost to the 30-year-old Savage in New York on April 18, 1955, is an 8-5 favorite in the nationally televised (10 p. m. EDT, ABC) 10-round return match at Chicago Stadium.

Boyd, 22, is unbeaten since Savage gave him a lesson as a devasating workman on the inside. Since then he has stacked up eight victims in a row, including such seasoned punchers as Gene Fullmer, ranked No. 1 by Ring Magazine, George Johnson, Italo Scortichini, Eduardo Lausse and Holly Mims.

Swords Point Wins

Westbury, June 6 (AP)—Swords Point gained his sixth victory in a row capturing the Henry Hudson Trot last night at Roosevelt Raceway. The 4-year-old brown gelding, owned by Nelson and Rhodes of Cranford, N. J., scored by a length over Spencer Mite in 2:06 with Tiny Volo third. Swords Point returned $4.20.

Saugerties Turns Back Maroon With Run in Seventh, 5-4

Martin Scores Winning Marker On Sacrifice Fly

High School Ends Season With 8-5 Mark

Pinch hitter Larry Risdal's sacrifice fly scored Joe Martin in the last inning and enabled Saugerties High School to defeat Kingston High, 5-4, yesterday at Cantine Field. The win avenged a setback handed the Sawyers by the Maroons Monday, 3-2.

The contest also marked the end of the season play for the Maroons. They finished with an 8 won, 5 lost, 1 tie overall record. In the DUSO League they wound up in a tie for second with Middletown with a 3-4-1 slate.

Martin tallied the winning run after leading off the frame with a booming triple. Risdal was sent up to hit for Eddie Riozzi and promptly skyied deep to the outfield as Martin tagged up and scored.

KINGSTON RAKED right-hander Skip Kugelman for 13 hits, but the bespectacled hurler hung on grimly to post the win. Southpaw Alo Saluste also managed to travel the distance despite several shaky frames.

Saugerties drew first blood with a run in the second. Bill Hanna singled and after an error and walk had loaded the sacks, Hanna scored on a force play.

Kingston got on top the fourth inning. Bill Chase tripled and scored on Frank Turck's hit for one run. After Bob Dawkins singled, Bill Cragan scored Turck with a lusty double.

THE SAWYERS bounced back to go ahead in their half. Bill Hanna got a one-baser, George Neher was hit by a pitched ball and Bill Zeilman walked to fill the bags. Don Mormile rapped a base hit to net two runs and Zeilman came across on Don Whitaker's sacrifice fly.

Chase's second triple chased home Ron Ashdown and Jim Jackson in the fifth as the Maroons tied the score. Ron and Jim had singled and doubled before Chase's big blow.

The win hiked Saugerties overall record to 13-2. It still has three games left to play against Catskill today, Wallkill Thursday and Coxsackie Friday.

Thursday's Game
Indians vs. Pirates.

The National Little League's Canfield Supply Tigers made their American League uncles yesterday.

They clawed the Hiltebrant Pirates, 11 to 3, behind the five hit pitching of Jerry Bradford, who fanned 10, for their first win of the season.

HORACE WALKER, Pirate third baseman and pitcher, was the only Buccaneer who bothered Bradford getting three singles. Roy Hatcher slammed a two-run homer in the third.

Bradford also put on quite a show with the bat, pounding a single, double and triple for a perfect "3 for 3" performance. Joe Clausi belted a trio of singletons and Charlie Davide and Richie Hoffman had two hits apiece. Frank Bonavita doubled for the Pirates.

Cedar Rest Rips Hercules, 7-1; S&C, Legion, Rapp's Triumph

Cedar Rest backed the steady seven-hit pitching of Huyler Van Wagenen with a 12-hit barrage to post a 7-1 victory over Hercules in the Recreation League softball feature last night.

In other action, Legion Post No. 150 and Rapp's Express rallied from behind in the final frame to win while S & C Lunch held off Krovan's to post its first decision, 5-4. The Legion won over Lincoln Park, 9-8 and the Expressmen shaded Colonial Cabinets, 8-7.

VAN WAGNEN was supported by some fine defensive play and wasn't scored upon until the last frame. Don Herzog and Will Hahn supplied the long ball punch, each hitting homers. Herzog's was his third in as many games and Hahn his second in two games. Cleanup hitter Harry Walden also enjoyed a banner evening getting three hits to up his total to six in eight official trips.

Bob Lasher was the hero for Rapp's lashing a two out homer with Nick Nagele on base to pull out the ball game. Vince Hart also hit for the circuit for the winners, his third of the season. Other hitting stars for the Expressmen were John Lawson with a pair of doubles and Mort Gazley and Nagele with two singles apiece. Joe Pino got two hits for Colonials.

The Legion had to score four times to overcome Lincoln Park and win. The big blow of the frame was a two-out homer by Rich Schere with a man aboard.

TRAILING 8-5, Bob Martin singled, stole second and scored on Hal Cates hit. After two batters flied out, Ang Corrado kept the pot boiling with a one-baser which set things up for Schere's clutch blast.

S&C threw back a last ditch rally in the seventh to win for Putsy Brown. Leading 5-0, the winners almost saw their margin evaporate as Krovan's registered one in the sixth and three in last frame.

Brown and Dom Parisi got two hits each and Richter and Berhrdil the same for the losers for hitting honors. Smith of S&C got the only extra base hit, a triple.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 14th day of May, 1956, I, the undersigned, the Referee, in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York on the 29th day of June, 1956, at twelve (12) o'clock noon, Daylight Saving Time, on that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN tract, piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Woodstock, County of Ulster, and State of New York.

BEGINNING at a point on the old Glasco Turnpike near the Shady Post Office, westerly along the lands of the Burhans property two hundred feet (200) more or less to the lands of Elting Simpkins, designated by a stone wall; thence southerly along the lands of said Simpkins to a stake and stone; thence easterly along the lands of said Simpkins to the public highway; thence north to the place of beginning; said lot being one hundred feet (100) front and rear and two hundred feet (200) in depth.

The party of the first part to this agreement agrees to erect and maintain all fences surrounding said lot against the parties of the second part to this instrument:

Being the same premises conveyed by Roscoe V. Elsworth to John B. Hoyt and Carrie M. Hoyt, his wife, as tenants by the entirety on the 24th day of July, 1925, the deed of which is recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office in Liber 512 of deeds at page 43. The property herein conveyed is sold and accepted subject to the following restrictions shall be deemed to be a covenant running with the land and not a personal covenant to wit: The property herein conveyed shall not be used for any general store, gas station, garage, or for any obnoxious purposes.

Being the same property described in a certain deed from Julia MacDaniel, Alton M. Hoyt, Roberta C. Payne and Ruth B. Hoyt to Hudson Counties Estates, Inc., dated September 29, 1950 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office in book 779 of deeds at page 187.

Being the same premises conveyed by Hudson Counties Estates, Inc., Dellay Realty Co., Inc., by deed dated May 12, 1951, and recorded in Book 797 of deeds at page 197.

Dated at Kingston, New York, May 14th, 1956.

Wallkill Central School scored all its runs in the first two innings to rout Marlboro Central, 9-4, yesterday in an Ulster County Athletic League game at Marlboro.

The Hattowners kayoed starter Mike Caserto in the opening walks and two errors. Mandia could set down the side scored six times on two hits, a host of walks and two errors. Mandia was ripped for Wallkill's other runs in the next frame, but then settled down and pitched shutout ball.

Freshman southpaw Henry Hecht yielded five hits in posting the win. He passed two and struck out none.

The contest marked the end of the season for Marlboro. The Dukes, who captured the UCAL the past two seasons, finished with a lackluster 3-9 record and in a last place tie with New Paltz. Wallkill now is 4-7 and plays its finale Thursday against champion Saugerties.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY BY
COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WELFARE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned, pursuant to the authority conferred upon him by the Social Welfare Law of the State of New York, will offer for sale at public auction the premises described below, to be held on the premises at the Town of Wawarsing, Ulster County, New York, on the 20th day of June, 1956, at 10:00 A. M. and 11:00 A. M. respectively.

TOWN OF WAWARSING

Parcel No. 1

Property formerly owned by Nelson D. and Emma D. Gabriel located at High Street in Napanoch, County of Ulster, consisting of a 10-room house and land approximately 150 feet by 230 feet, more or less. Being the same premises conveyed by Nelson D. Gabriel and Emma Gabriel, his wife, to Edward E. Murray, as Commissioner of Public Welfare of Ulster County by deed dated May 21, 1940, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office June 22, 1940 in Book 610 of Deeds at page 404.

Parcel No. 2

Property formerly owned by Earl P. West of Wylie Street, Napanoch, New York and located above, consisting of a two-story frame house, containing 5 rooms, good condition, and two lots of approximately 50x 100 feet each, more or less. Being the same premises conveyed by Earl P. West to Edward E. Murray, as Commissioner of Public Welfare by deed dated March 13, 1952 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office March 14, 1952 in Book 822 of Deeds at page 203.

The foregoing information and descriptions are accurate and complete so far as the records and knowledge of the undersigned indicate but no warranty is made or implied in respect to the accuracy thereon and inspection is invited.

The bidder to whom the premises are struck down will be required to pay 20% of the amount of his bid at the time of sale and the balance thereof within ten days after the date of sale to the undersigned at the office of the Ulster County Welfare Department, 240 Fair Street, Kingston, New York. Upon the payment of said balance the undersigned, as Commissioner of Public Welfare for Ulster County will execute and deliver a Deed without covenants of warranty to the purchaser.

The right is reserved by the undersigned to withdraw any of the aforementioned parcels from such sale at any time before the same are struck down, and to make further and different terms or additional sale to be announced at the time thereof.

The undersigned is not required to send any notice to the successful bidder, and if he, the bidder, neglects to call at the time and place above specified to receive his deed, he will be charged with interest thereafter on the whole amount of his purchase unless the seller shall deem it proper to extend the time for the completion of such purchase.

The purchaser of any said parcels shall at the time and place of sale, sign a memorandum of his purchase and an agreement to comply with the terms and conditions herein contained.

The biddings will be kept open after the property is struck down, and in case any purchaser shall fail to comply with any of the above conditions of sale, the premises so struck down to him will be again put up for sale under the direction of said Edward E. Murray, under these same terms of sale, such purchaser shall be held liable for any deficiency there may be between the sum for which said premises shall be struck down upon the sale and that for which they may be purchased on the resale.

The above parcels will be sold subject to any and all existing liens or encumbrances upon said premises as of the date of transfer.
Dated: June 4, 1956.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

He's either smart or he's got a gimmick. The garage man's dog, I mean. He's got me figured for a soft touch and every time he sees me he raises the roof.

It all started one day when I was getting the car greased in the building the dog is supposed to guard. He has his corner in the building with a chain, blanket and box.

This day some months ago I happened to have a supply of dog biscuits in the trunk. I opened up a box and fed him some.

"You'll regret it," the owner said. "He'll never let you alone after this."

I PAID LITTLE attention to the warning, figuring that the dog would never know when I was around as the garage building is set apart from the office and gas pumps.

Little did I figure on this particular dog. Nor can I figure yet how he does it. It was several days before I stopped at the garage again, but this fellow knew the instant the car rolled up.

'Here comes that guy with the food," he says to himself, and opens up all stops.

As I said, I can't figure this dog. There are too many people and too many cars coming and going almost continuously. How can he spot me?

I'VE CHECKED the wind and it's usually unfavorable. Besides, the odor of oil, gasoline and exhaust fumes should make it next to impossible for a dog to discriminate.

Vision?—How is it possible for a color-blind animal to distinguish the figure of a particular man or cat at more than a hundred feet? Hearing?—I've let the car coast up to the station, but he'll spot me every time.

I've suspected the owner, too. Suppose he gives the dog a signal—a word or whistle that I can't hear? There have been times when the owner has been pretty well occupied under a car or with his head under a hood.

No. This is a smart dog or else he's using a method I can't figure out. Whatever it is, it pays off for him.

Hilltop Rest parlayed three hits and a brilliant clutch pitching stint by Bill Costello into a 3-2 victory over Prospect Dairy in the City Softball League.

The Dairymen, who had eight hits, loaded the bases with one out in the seventh but Costello pulled out of the jam by fanning the next two hitters.

Tino Reynaud was the victim although he yielded only a double (Liery) and two singles by Orlando Felipe. Dom Perry and Champ Holstein each had two singles and Lou Perry a double for the winners.

EDDIE LOWE of Wimpy's Grill bested Ben Freer of Chez Emile, 5 to 4, in a battle of six-hitters. Lowe pitched shutout ball after the third inning.

Jim Woods was the defensive star for the high flying Wimpy's, throwing Art Hansen out at second with the tying run on third in the seventh. He also hit a double and single.

Nick Carl blasted a triple and single and Bud Scheffel had a double and single for Chez Emile. Don Smith poked a single and double for the winners.

Perry's backed Joe Venuti's seven-hit barrage against Dick Bradley to wrap up a 13-7 decision over Miron Lumber.

Venuti was rapped hard in the early going and trailed 7-4 at the end of three frames. He tightened up to pitch shutout ball the rest of the way while Perry's scored runs in telephone numbers.

DICK TERLINGER belted a single, double and homer for Perry's. Bob Graves had four hits, including a double. John Crespino and Venuti also hit safely three times for Perry's. Ted Beland tripled with the bases loaded for Perry's in the first inning.

Casella homered with two on in the second for Mirons.

Braves Nip Dodgers on Late Rally

A late rally and a game-saving relief job by Fred Pritchett carried the Braves to a 7-6 come-from-behind win over the Dodgers in the Glasco-East Kingston Little League last night at East Kingston.

Pritchett was called to the mound as relief for Dom Bernardi, after the latter had given up a triple to Leonard with one down. Pritchett calmly fanned Drew Demeter and forced Bob Brink to pop out to end the game.

THE BRAVES overtook the Dodgers with a run in the fifth that snapped a 6-all tie after the losers had built up a sizable early game margin.

Francis Guido was the losing pitcher and was relieved by Joe Marino. Together they gave up seven hits, including doubles by Pritchett and Paul Guido.

Mike Celuch, Marino and Bruce Mauro doubled for the Dodgers.

Guido fanned 11, Bernardi 7 and Marino 2.

Lauds Red Cross Work

St. Louis, June 6 (AP)—The administrator of veterans affairs today told the National Convention of Red Cross here that the organization has performed "magnificent work" for the benefit of hospitalized veterans. Harvey H. Higley said the VA has counted on Red Cross aid during the past 10 years and has received it on all levels—national, area, and local chapter. Higley also lauded the Red Cross blood program, pointing out that during the fiscal year 1954-1955, the VA received free nearly 70,000 pints of blood.

French Seal Off Area

Algiers, Algeria, June 6 (AP)—French Alpine and mechanized troops sealed off a big area of the Kabylie Mountain region in northeast Algeria today and began a massive search for rebel strongholds. More than 6,000 soldiers took up positions around the area 15 miles southwest of Tizi Ouzon. After moving to block any escape, the troops started fanning across the rugged terrain. No inspection of the region has been made for six months. In western Algeria, the army said it made contact with a rebel band and killed 12 of them.

Los Angeles, June 6 (AP)—Like all graduating seniors, John Burgoyne Ely is just a bit sad his college days are about over. Ely is 86. "I'll miss those coeds, 8 o'clock classes and coffee breaks," Ely said yesterday. "They kept me from feeling my age." Six of Ely's seven children will be on hand when he gets his diploma at UCLA Saturday. Four grandchildren will be there too. Ely's degree is a Bachelor of Arts in music. During four years of college his grades were all A's and B's.

ASTOUNDING!

Never before has the used car buyer been able to purchase the car of his dreams with complete confidence against expensive repair bills.

HERE'S WHY—

1—Every car displaying NBC seal has been thoroughly examined and approved by an independent inspector from National Bonded Cars, Inc.
2—Warranted 1 full year 100% against mechanical failure. NBC will pay all parts and labor.
3—Protection is enforced regardless of mileage travel. GOOD ANYWHERE IN U.S.A.
4—Performance of your warranty is backed by a $120,000,000 liability assurance cooperation.
5—Our cars are priced below book.
6—We are the first and only dealer in Ulster County that carries this warranty with ABSOLUTELY NO COST TO BUYER.

A few of our warranted cars

Police Officer Will Present Delinquency Talk

CONRAD S. JENSEN

The problems of juvenile delinquency and crime will be discussed by Captain Conrad S. Jensen of the Plainclothes Squad of Brooklyn Police Headquarters at a mass meeting for men only at First Baptist Church, Saugerties, Tuesday at 7:45 p. m.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Men's Fellowship of the church.

Captain Jensen, a member of the New York city police department for 20 years is the holder of the pistol shooting championship among New York city policemen. He also was awarded the Excellent Police Citation for the capture of several notorious criminals. He will be accompanied by another police officer, Chandler Bergdahl.

The program following the address will include selections by Ronnie Avalone, former member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. During his engagement with the Metropolitan Opera, he was heard in Lohengrin, Die Meistersinger, Pagliacci and other operas.

The committee in charge has announced that in order to give Captain Jensen an opportunity to deal with his topic plainly and pointedly the meeting is limited to men only. No admittance fee will be charged, however a free will offering will be received.

All men, regardles of church affiliations are urged to attend.

Not So High

Muskegon, Mich. (AP) — Roger Sloan, 15, was pretty high on his dad's business until he tried it. Now he's not so sure. His father, Jack, 47, is a steeple jack. He sent Roger up a 60-foot flagpole to paint the top and "everything was fine until the wind started to whip the pole.," says Roger. After sliding down the pole in a hurry, Roger said: "I think I'll wait a few years."

Women Drivers In Less Crashes Report Reveals

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 6 (AP) —A study has shown that women drivers had far fewer automobile accidents than men and nonsmokers had better driving records than smokers, a State Health Department researcher said today.

Dr. Walter E. Boek, a research anthropologist, also told the 52nd annual New York Conference that pre-war automobiles in the study had better records than those in the 1952-56 model years. The state will soon require safety inspections of cars four or more years old, he noted.

Boek said:

"In spite of everything that's said about women drivers, they actually have far fewer accidents than men regardless of miles driven."

The study also showed "a significant relationship" between smoking and accidents, said Dr. Boek.

HE TOLD THE meeting of public and other health officials that he did not blame smoking itself for the accidents. But, he said, the smoking was "an indication of a set of characteristics which are related to accidents."

Boek said his study had been conducted in the City of Schenectady, after pilot projects in smaller communities.

Smoking was included, he said, because it has become "incorporated in American behavior."

He said that men were more than twice as likely to have accidents as women.

THE SEX, difference in accident rates, he said, could be "realized clearly" in a comparison of the "highest-exposure" category—those who drove over 17,000 miles a year, and the lowest—under 9,000 miles a year. Women in the highest category had fewer accidents than men in the lower, the researcher said.

Boek reported that smokers had 1½ times more accidents than non-smokers.

He said that his study showed that only nine per cent of the pre-war cars checked had been in accidents compared with 13 per cent in the 1952-56 model years.

Boek said that additional data on the various factors involved in accidents would be determined in the new driver training-research center to be established in Albany under the sponsorship of three state agencies.

Flood Waters Dropping

Portland, Ore., June (AP)—Floods on the lower Columbia river were expected to recede slowly today as cooler weather slowed the mountain snow melt. Crews continued to watch softened dikes along the lower river and add more sandbags to low spots. High tides brought the water within inches of dike tops in some areas. The Columbia held steady at 26.8 feet yesterday at Vancouver, Wash., and a slow fall the next few days was predicted by river forecasters as the Snake river, a main Columbia tributary, continued to recede.

Discover Ruins of City

Damascus, Syria, June 6 (AP)—Four British women have discovered ruins of a 3,000-year-old city near the Syrian border with Turkey, the National Archeology Department announced today. It was the second Syrian announcement of an archeological find in two days. Syria's chief archeologist, Dr. Salim Abdel Abdulhak, said the British team had reported uncovering the ancient city north of Aleppo after 45 days of excavations. The women reported evidence it was the capital of an ancient state known as Arbad.

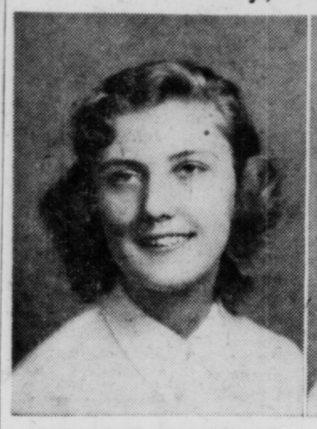
State University Teachers College to Hold Commencement Exercises Sunday; Eight From Kingston to Receive Degrees



MARGARET MATTHEWS

VERONICA CONIGLIO

BEVERLY NEER

BELLE CAMPBELL

JANET GOODWIN

DOROTHY SCHNEIDER

Eight seniors from the Kingston area are among the more than 300 students who will be awarded degrees at the 69th annual commencement exercises at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, Sunday, according to Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college.

Candidates for degrees will include:

MRS. JOYCE ROTH, wife of Kenneth Roth, 13 North Front street, New Paltz, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in General Elementary education. She has accepted a position as teacher of the first and second grades at the Rosendale Public School, Rosendale. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term;

MISS AGATHA MILLER, niece of Mrs. W. Fitzgerald, 79 Hoffman street, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in General Elementary education. She was president of Theta Phi, a social sorority, in the fall of 1955; a member of the student division of the New York State Teachers Association, and served on the staff of the Paltzonian, the College yearbook.

Miss Miller has accepted a position as sixth grade teacher in the Schenectady Public Schools. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term;

MISS BEVERLY NEER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Neer Jr., Rifton, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in Early Childhood education. She was a member of Clio, a social sorority at the College. She has accepted a position as Kindergarten teacher at the Chambers Union Free School, Town of Ulster. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term;

MISS VERONICA A. CONIGLIO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Coniglio, Broadway, Port Ewen, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in General Elementary education. She held a scholarship to College of St. Rose, Albany, from which she was a transfer student. While at New Paltz, she was a member of Theta Phi, a social sorority. She has accepted a position as fourth grade teacher at the Chambers School, Ulster No. 8, Town of Ulster. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term;

MRS. JANET MACK GOODWIN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Mack, Stone Ridge, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in Early Childhood education. She was a member of the Arts and Crafts honor society and Theta Phi, a social sorority.

Mrs. Goodwin has accepted a position as second grade teacher at the Chambers School, Kingston. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term.

MISS MARGARET JUDY MATTHEWS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Matthews, Saugerties, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in General Elementary education. She was corresponding secretary, 1954-1955, for Nu Pi Sigma, honorary science fraternity at the College, treasurer, 1956, for Theta Phi, social sorority, and a member of Women's Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, International Relations Club, the student division of the New York State Teachers Association; Arts and Crafts Honor Society and Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education.

Miss Matthews has accepted a position as Kindergarten teacher at the Port Ewen Central School. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term.

MISS DOROTHY SCHNEIDER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Schneider, 9 Main street, Rosendale, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in General Elementary education. She was a member of the Music Committee of the College Union Board; the student division of the New York State Teachers Association; and Ago, a social sorority. She was also on the Dean's List, an honor based on achievement of superior scholarship during a semester of course work.

Miss Schneider has accepted a position as first grade teacher at the Underhill Avenue School, White Plains. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term.

MISS BELLE CAMPBELL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Campbell, 29 River Road, Ulster Park, has completed a four-year program of teacher preparation in Early Childhood education. She was holder of the Kingston AAUW scholarship; secretary-treasurer of College Orchestra, 1954; treasurer of College Band, 1953, 54, 55; vice president, 1955, of Mu Sigma Epsilon, honorary music society; a member of Student Counselors, Women's Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, student division of the New York State Teachers Association, Ago, a social sorority; and served on the staff of the Oracle, College newspaper.

Miss Campbell has accepted a position as Kindergarten teacher at the Roosevelt School, Ossining. Her appointment becomes effective with the start of the fall term.

The 307 members of the 1956 graduating class are majors in one of three fields of education offered by the college. A total of 165 candidates are majors in General Elementary Education; 40 have majors in Early Childhood Education; and 16 are Art Education majors. Master of Science degrees will be awarded to 86 students.

Baccalaureate services are scheduled for 10:30 a. m. on Sunday in the college auditorium, with the Rev. Gerret Wullschleger of the Reformed Church in New Paltz as the principal speaker. The Rev. Mr. Wullschleger is celebrating the 25th anniversary of his coming to New Paltz. The Rev. Willet Porter, of the New Paltz Methodist Church, will give the invocation and benediction.

Commencement exercises will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday on the South side of the campus. Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, past president of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, will give the address. She is the founder of the Jenkins Memorial Scholarships for students attending State University of New York Teachers Colleges and is chairman of legislation for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The Rev. Joseph F. Blake, of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in New Paltz, will give the invocation and benediction.

During the commencement exercises, the college will dedicate a World Study Center which will be located on the top floor of the library. It will contain both current and historical material relating to most countries of the world and will be available to students, faculty, teachers, and other interested persons in this region of the State. Professor Humayun Kabir, a member of the Council of States (upper house) of the Indian Parliament, will dedicate the new study center. Professor Kabir, until recently secretary of the Ministry of Education in New Delhi, is a distinguished author, philosopher and teacher and is in this country for a brief time, having just concluded a series of lectures at the University of London.

In case of rain the commencement exercises will be held in the college auditorium and admission will be by ticket.

Woman Convicted Of Murder in '34 Dies at Rest Home

Chicago, June 6 (AP) — The death nearly a year ago of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, convicted in 1934 of the murder of her daughter-in-law after two sensational trials, was disclosed yesterday.

Chicago newspapers reported Mrs. Wynekoop died last July 4 at a south side rest home. They said the elderly woman physician was cremated secretly and buried under the name Dr. Alice Lois Lindsay.

An 84-year-old woman named Alice Lois Lindsay died last July 4 at the rest home, a check showed. Dr. Wynekoop would have been 84 at that time.

Mrs. Clifton Hunn, superintendent of the nursing home, and Dr. Irving Mack, who signed the death certificate, both said they did not know whether Dr. Lindsay actually was Dr. Wynekoop.

The funeral services were arranged by Dr. Catherine Lindsay Dobson, who listed herself as Dr. Lindsay's daughter. Dr. Wynekoop's only daughter, Catherine Wynekoop, also was a physician. She was not available either at her home or her office. The death certificate listed the cause of Dr. Lindsay's death as arteriosclerosis and pneumonia.

Dr. Wynekoop had been a practicing physician in Chicago for 38 years when her daughter-in-law, Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, was slain on Nov. 21, 1933. The body of the 23-year-old daughter of a well-to-do Indianapolis broker was found nearly nude on an examining table in the basement office of the 16-room Wynekoop home. She was dead—chloroformed and shot through the back.

Rheta's husband, Earl, then 27, admitted the slaying but police discounted his admission when it was learned he was not in Chicago at the time. His mother was indicted and brought to trial.

The first trial ended in a mistrial. She was convicted and sentenced to 25 years in prison in the second trial. She served 13 years and nine months and was released on good behavior. The state contended, at the trials, that Dr. Wynekoop killed her daughter-in-law because her son was not happily married and also she had obtained a $10,000 double indemnity life insurance policy on Rheta. She steadfastly denied the crime during the trials.

Japan to Sidetrack Claim

Tokyo, June 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama said today Japan will sidetrack its claim to the South Kurile Islands in an effort to work out a peace treaty with Soviet Russia. Hatoyama told a news conference he thought it would be "advantageous to Japan to wait until world peace comes" to settle the issue of the southern Kuriles, taken by Russia from Japan after World War 2.

Gluckmann in Iceland

Reykjavik, Iceland, June 6 (AP)—Peter Gluckmann reached Keflavik Airfield from Greenland last midnight on his third solo hop of the Atlantic in a single-engine plane. A German-born San Francisco watchmaker, Gluckmann is making the trip for fun in a Cessna 190. He left New York Monday. The Greenland-Iceland leg took 8 hours and 15 minutes. Bad weather delayed Gluckmann's takeoff for England today.

Safe on Tour

Lake Elmo, Minn. (AP)—A pair of all-thumbs burglars got an efficiency rating of zero in an attempted theft. After loading the safe into a stolen truck, they lost their way, turned up a driveway, drove up an embankment, stalled the truck, lost the safe when it rolled out the back and fled when a farm boy investigated the clumsy goings-on.

Jury Selection Is Started for Robbery Charge

Selection of a jury to try the robbery charge against Sanford Joel Meyers, 22, of Phillipsport, was begun in County court this morning before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

Meyers allegedly entered the C & S Bakery on Center street, Ellenville, last November and asked for a cake. Mrs. Schoenbrun was about to wrap up the cake when Meyers allegedly drew a gun and demanded money. She handed over about $70 from the register and the man left. He was later arrested near Spring Glen. Later he told police he had tossed the gun in Spring Glen Lake as well as the coat and hat he had worn at the time of the robbery. The gun was not recovered. Meyers, out of work at the time had free rent as a caretaker of a bungalow colony, and alleges he was so distraught because he was unable to get food for his family that he did not know what he was doing when he held up the bakery proprietor.

Charles Saccoman appears for defendant and indicated during the examination of prospective jurors that the defense would include the element of failure to comprehend the nature of the act.

Fly in the Car

San Diego, Cailf. (AP) — A housefly cost James Hom $400. The fly got into Hom's car and distracted his attention from driving. Police said the car ran off the road and hit a street sign and a small building. Damage to Hom's sedan—$400.
